Stanford Research Lets Contract for 1st Permanent Unit Here

Building to Start Within a Month

E. Finley Carter, director of Stanford Research Institute, announced yesterday that arrangements have been completed for the first phase of SRI's new-building program, and that construction on the main building will begin within a month. Contracts totalling in the neighborhood of $2 million have been awarded to the Williams and Burrows Construction Co., Belmont, Calif.

Completion of the two-story building is expected by summer, 1958.

The new structure, of reinforced concrete faced with clay brick, will face Ravenswood avenue near Middlefield road. It will provide total floor space in excess of 110,000 square feet.

Initially, the building will house portions of the administrative staff, the economics research division, Poulter laboratories and the physical science division. It will accommodate about one-third of the 1300 SRI staff members now based in Menlo Park and Palo Alto.

The structure and its surrounding garden and parking areas will encompass more than 18 acres.

The research institute owns 30 acres of Stanford Village land, the former Dibble Hospital property. It has indicated it may purchase some 40 more acres, now owned by Stanford University.

Burgess Goes to Hospital

City Councilman Charles P. Burgess was admitted to Palo Alto Hospital Tuesday evening and was reported in a coma by his attending physician yesterday. He is the victim of a brain tumor.

The physician, who asked that his name not be used, declared Burgess' condition was "extremely serious."

Hospital attendants said that Burgress appeared comfortable during Tuesday night. His wife, Pauline, has been at the hospital constantly since his admission.

Coincidentally with announcement of Burgess' admission to the hospital, it was announced Tuesday that his younger brother, George T. Burgess, 44, had been found dead in his Palo Alto home that morning.

First symtoms of Burgess' disease appeared about a year and a a half ago, when he was operated on for removal of a malignant growth in his arm. The present tumor first became apparent about six weeks ago, and a month ago, Burgess left his job as a securities anaylist with offices in Oakland, to remain home.

DISCONTINUED COLUMN

At the same time, he discontinued the writing of his column, "Your City's Business," which he has written for the Recorder for the past 15 years.

His health deteriorated since then.

Burgess first was elected to the city's governing panel in 1942, and has served continuously since then. He was mayor twice, serving a total of eight years in that capacity.

He has resided with his wife and daughter, Helen, at 1280 Garden lane.

RITES FOR BROTHER

Funeral services for Burgess' brother, George, are to be held at 3 p.m. today.

Besides the Menlo Park councilman, George Burgess is survived by another brother, John R. Burgess of Menlo Park.

His mother, the late Mrs. Ada Burgess, died at the home occupied by herself and George Burgess last December 20.

George Burgess was not married. He had been employed for the past 20 years as an accountant with the firm of Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery in San Francisco, and was a member of Palo Alto Lodge 1471, BPOE. He had made his home in Palo Alto for the past 34 years.

Funeral services are to be conducted from the chapel of Roller and Hapgood, 930 Middlefield road, in Palo Alto. The Rev. Don Emerson Hall, pastor of the Menlo Park Prsbyterian Church, is to officiate.

15-Cent Tax Seen for Woodsiders

A 15 cent property tax rate, possibly even lower, was the encouraging word to citizens of the six-months'-old Town of Woodside revealed at last Thursday's monthly Town Council meeting in the multipurpose room at Woodside School.

The figure was tentatively proposed by City Treasurer Richard Wedekind and confirmed with "some assurance" by have not yet been worked out.

Councilman Donald Graham also spoke hopefully in his report to the council and audience on a recent intercity breakfast meetiug with trucking industry spokesmen.

"I feel quite encouraged," he said, "about the prospect of getting the load lifted from Woodside." He said he had represented Woodside as willing to be "reasonable toward necessary heavy trucking, but we would like the burden to be shared."

Graham explained that the actions of Redwood City and Belmont in closing Edgewood road and Ralston avenue to heavy trucking had left only two possible routes for such traffic, Crystal Springs road, and the Canada-Woodside road route. He added that the Building Trades Union is willing to assist by fining heavily all offending truck drivers, and one suggestion made was for establishment of a self-policing force by the contracting association as a whole, to be administered by the cities concerned. A similar program has been successful in San Mateo, Graham said.

On the advice of City Attorney Arthur Harzfeld, the council agreed to talk further to all interested persons before drafting a final trucking ordinance.

In a brief report by Councilman Richard Marshall on the Serra Freeway proposals, Marshall assured his listeners that the committee was hard at work on the problem and spggested that anyone feel free to call himself, John Baldwin, Edgar Norris or Councilman Graham with questions or suggestions.

Mayor Lowe cited the Menlo Park council's preference for Route "C" which would cut directly across residential Woodside. "They said they didn't want to hurt Woodside!" he said wryly.

The water problem in Woodside's hill areas was discussed briefly with a report on the planning commission's meetings with Thomas E. Burke, developer of Woodside Oaks subdivision, and the city's stand on refusing to issue any further building permits in the tract until evidence of intent to complete water facilities has been given.

Creed Haberlin, former mayor of San Mateo and present Woodside resident active in a committee for preserving and extending the community's equestrian and hiking trails, suggested that some pressure be exerted on California Water Service when that utility applied for its franchise, to provide water for the entire community.

Mayor Lowe replied that the franchise could not be denied.

The trails committee represented by J. S. Crepe of Kings Mountain road also made its influence felt when the council accepted its recommendation that the PG&E right-of-way in Woodside Hills 4 be shown as a dedicated easement for an equestrian and hiking trail on the tract's tentative subdivision map. Crepe said that PG&E had okayed this use for the right-of-way.

The Town Council will meet tonight in the Town Hall for consideration of applications for building permits submitted this week.

LINKING "EAST" AND "WEST"

ANOTHER LINK in the pedestrian walkway which will connect Belle Haven with Menlo Park proper was put into place last week. The walkway over the Bayshore freeway was petitioned for by the Belle Haven Mutual Improvement Association a few years ago and was pushed by the Menlo Park City Council as an important link between "east" and "west" Menlo Park. Without it Belle Haven residents would be obliged to reach the rest of the city by the Willow cloverleaf. Sure to be known as the Ringwood overpass; the walkway will provide easy access for Menlo-Atherton High School students and families wishing to attend Flood Park activities.

An Editorial

Tomorrow the voters of this area will go to the polls to choose representatives on their school boards. It is too much to hope, but we do hope, nevertheless, that every registered voter who is able to do so will cast a ballot.

Your schools are more than places provided to keep the kids out of Mommy's hair during part of the day, and they are more than public institutions that someone else —some George or other—can be expected to run for you.

Your schools are a focal point of your community, not only teaching your children or your neighbor's children how to read and write, but in large part determining your future, the welfare and prosperity of the town you live in and the value of your property.

Even where there is no contest, candidates for school trustee need YOUR vote if they are to represent YOU, and in our governmental system you are the one who has the say in how your schools shall be operated.

The Recorder presents herewith a summary of its recommendations as to how to vote. For further details on our recommendations in the hotly contested Menlo Park district election, turn to Page 4. But whether or not you agree with us, please vote!

The Recorder recommends:

In the SEQUOIA UNION HIGH SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Mrs. Rae Caplan
John A. Cost

In the MENLO PARK CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Elwood A. Williams
William J. Platt

In the LAS LOMITAS SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Vern E. Leahy (Unopposed)
3-Year Permissive Tax Increase: Yes

In the RAVENSWOOD CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Preston Hawk (Unopposed)
Francis W. Pearson Jr. (Unopposed)

In the PORTOLA ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Dr. Lincoln E. Moses (Unopposed)
Permissive Tax Increase: Yes
$100,000 Bond Issue: Yes
Acceptance of State Aid to $135,000: Yes

In the WOODSIDE ELEMENTARY SCHOOL DISTRICT:
Fredric C. Boucke (Unopposed)
$150,000 Bond Issue: Yes

For Member, County Board of Education, 3rd District:
Thomas Needham (Unopposed)

Hot Race Closing In Menlo

For pictures and biographical data and campaign statements on Menlo Park school district candidates see Page 5.

Campaigning of four candidates for two positions on the Menlo Park Elementary School District board of trustees will be climaxed tomorrow when voters ballot in what has become the area's most bitterly contested school election this year.

Voters throughout the south county area will vote for two Sequoia High School District trusteeship candidates, both incumbents running unopposed; bond issue measures are to be voted on in the Portola and Woodside districts and raises in the permissive tax rate maximum will be voted on in the Las Lomitas and Portola districts.

Unopposed candidates are running for election in the Las Lomitas, Portola, Woodside and Ravenswood districts.

HOT RACE HERE

The contest in the Menlo Park district, where two sets of candidates have fought campaigns, remains the hot one.

Running as a slate are J. E. Hall of 179 Burns avenue in Atherton and Robert S. Robertson, 203 Felton drive, both former members of the Parents for Education group that spearheaded the fight against a district-sponsored $396,000 bond issue measure in January.

Substantially, they have based their campaign on the contention that the district should use some $280,000 available from a 1955 bond issue to construct needed classrooms on existing sites, rather than seek to acquire more property on which to build schools.

Running against them are, as independent candidates, Elwood Williams of 162 Greenoaks drive, who is contending with Hall for the board seat being left vacant with retirement of Ben G. Holland, and William J. Platt, 151 Laurel street, appointed to fill the vacancy left with resignation of Trustee Jack Davis and seeking the two-year post against Robertson.

Platt and Williams contend that the district's taxpayers and voters favor acquisition of more land rather than the crowding of existing sites. Hall and Robertson contend that enrollment is now at a peak, and more classrooms—other than those to replace Laurel school—will not be needed.

CHALLENGES STATEMENT

Meanwhile, at Tuesday night's regular meeting of the school district board, retiring Trustee Ben G. Holland reviewed minutes of 1955 meetings and challenged the accuracy of a statement recently issued by Robertson and Hall to the effect that "the $396,000 voted in 1955 was to build needed rooms at existing sites. ."

Quotations from the minutes of board meetings at that time, read by Holland, indicated it has always been the board's intention to construct some classrooms on existing sites, but to purchase a new seven-acre school site east of El Camino Real.

IN OTHER DISTRICTS

Meanwhile, voters in other districts will ballot on the following:

Las Lomitas District: Vern E. Leahy, running unopposed, and a proposition to raise the permissive tax rate maximum from $2.40 per $100 assessed valuation to $3.15, for the next three years.

Ravenswood District: Preston Hawk and Frances W. Pearson Jr., running unopposed.

Portola District: Dr. Lincoln Moses, running unopposed; proposition to raise the permissive tax rate maximum from $1.50 to $1.80; $100,000 bond issue and proposition to accept state emergency aid funds to the amount of $135,000.

Woodside District: F. C. Boucke, running unopposed, and a $150,000 bond issue.

Sequoia High School District: Incumbents John Cost and Mrs. Rae Caplan, running virtually un-

Menlo Park School District Raises Pay for Noncertificated Employees

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees Tuesday granted pay raises to non-certificated employees of the district, which will raise salaries an average of 6.4 percent and cost the district $10,885 for the next fiscal year.

The action, according to Business Manager John C. Richert, brings district schedules more in line with wages paid by private industry. The district is "average" he said, when its pay is compared with that of neighboring school districts.

He conceded that "fringe benefits" were greater in the case of school workers than in the case of most private industries.

Under the new schedule, clerks' salaries will be raised from a $230 and $280 range to a range of from $250 to $300; gardeners and custodians' salaries will be raised in range from $285-$335 to $305-$355 and bus drivers' salaries, from a range of $300-$350 to a range of $320-$370.

Several changes in the district's policy for uncertificated employees were also okayed. These included three weeks' vacation annually for employees with five years' service or more.

The school board also:

1. Okayed a change order for a drain being installed as part of the Fremont school playground returfing area;

2. Set 9 a.m. May 23 as time for a tour of inspection at Hillview school playground, to investigate damage to a fence separating the school from Hesketh Manor, and to study the location of an incinerator which has drawn criticism from neighbors;

3. Okayed the opening of negotiations to renew the district's annual lease with Stanford University for Laurel School, at a cost of $7200 per year;

4. Okayed purchase of Civilian Defense alarm units for each of the district's five schools;

5. Awarded contracts for the supply of 75 separate items of instructional supplies from 11 bidders, at a total cost of $6411.07.

Street Plan, Underpass Hearing June 11

A decision on a long-discussed underpass linking El Camino Real and Linfield Oaks is in the works by the Menlo Park City Councilmen, who set a street plan for the surrounding area for hearing June 11.

The underpass, proposed to either connect Burgess drive or Willow road with El Camino, will be a part of the streets and highways section of the master plan covering an area bounded by Ravenswood avenue, Middlefield road and the southern city limits.

Mayor William Lawson called for a decision on the underpass, commenting that a proposed car wash opposite Middle avenue is being held up until the city decides where to locate the underpass.

Monoxide Hits Mother, Child

Mrs. June Clintch, 29, and her daughter, Maureen, 2, were taken to Palo Alto Hospital Tuesday morning for treatment of the effects of carbon monoxide poisoning suffered at their home at 54 Lorelei lane.

Firemen, who were called to the residence at 8:41 a.m. by the family's physician, said that the front had come off the furnace in the home, allowing gas to escape throughout the house.

Firemen Blame 'Mischief' in 2 False Alarms

Menlo Park Fire District firemen answered two false alarms Sunday, and chalked both up to maliscious mischief. Neither perpetrator was caught, but the firemen declared they are continuing their investigations.

First of the two alarms was turned in at 12:10 p.m. from the Greenoaks-Kavanaugh school. District Chief George Carter said there was a large number of youngsters playing at the school at the time, and it was impossible to find anybody who "pulled" the alarm.

Second call was by telephone to the Redwood City Fire Department, and was relayed to the Menlo Park department. It reported a "fire" at 127 Selby lane, at 5:24 p.m.

District Chief George Carter pointed out that the district takes a serious view of false alarms, since equipment and men are risked unnecessarily when speeding to answer them.

Also, he said, equipment out chasing false alarms deprives the district of equipment for fighting genuine fires, should any be reported at the same time.

4th Annual Schools Concert Tunes Up Tomorrow

Menlo Park School District's 70-member All-City orchestra will present its fourth annual promenade concert tomorrow afternoon, with the first overture to be played at 4 p.m. at the Hillview School multi-use room.

Lucie Landen, music consultant who is acting as director, said that the program will include the Haydn-Brahms "St. Anthony Chorale," Tschaiskowsky's "Russian Dance" and Waltzes from Franz Lehar.

Soloists who have earned through audition the right to represent their school orchestra are: Gary Davis, violinist, Encinal; Diane Brecker, violinist, Hillview, and John Dusel, cellist and district winner.

The Encinal string ensemble and the Hillview string ensemble will each play a group of numbers. This orchestra won enthusiastic praise at its concert last year.

The concert will be just one hour in length. The public is cordially invited to attend.

ALL PRACTICED UP—The three Mason girls—Barbara, with viola and Susan and Molly, with violins, of Encinal school's orchestra will be among the more than 70 pupils presenting the Menlo Park All-City Orchestra's fourth annual promenade concert tomorrow afternoon at Hillview school. The concert will begin at 4 p.m.

Bills in Legislature:

City Backs Laws to Ease Costs In Effort to Save Bus Service

Searching for ways to keep buses of Peninsula Transit Lines operating in Menlo Park, members of the city council Tuesday night sent a letter to the state capital urging passage of four bills to give financial relief to bus lines.

By this action and through a meeting of council representatives of Menlo Park, Redwood City, Palo Alto and San Carlos Thursday afternoon, Worth Prince, general manager of the company, hopes to keep the firm operating.

Previously, he said if aid was not received in some form, the bus line would have to stop operations by June 1.

The four bills endorsed by the council would remove a state sales tax from diesel fuel, would reduce the weight fee for bus companies and would refund taxes paid on fuel which did not propel buses on state highways.

Prine said the four measures might reduce the company's yearly operating deficit from $14,000 to $6000 or $7000.

All four measures are currently in or about to enter Senate and Assembly committees in Sacramento.

Councilman Vaile Andrus will represent the city council at the Redwood City meeting on the bus problem Thursday. Three of the company's lines, routes three, four and five, enter Menlo Park.

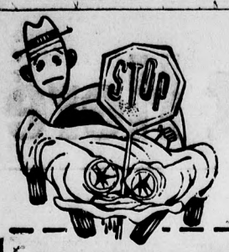

Councilmen instructed City Manager C. L. Longson to check the opinion of the League of California Cities before sending the letter endorsing the four measures.

Official:

FOR 'BLUE'

Formalizing their decision of last week's meeting, members of the Menlo Park City Council Tuesday night passed a resolution calling on the state division of highways to use the "blue" route for the extension of Junipero Serra.

The "blue" route is located further west than either the "green" or "red" route proposals.

Mrs. Hedge Lauds Cancer Fund Workers

Mrs. Albert A. Hedge of 281 Arlington way, Menlo Park, president of the San Mateo County Branch of the American Cancer Society, this week hailed the thousands of volunteers who worked for the success of the society's month-long cancer crusade.

Mrs. Hedge said that men, women, and children all gave strong "assists to the Cancer Crusade, each person helping in whatever way he could. All gave freely of their time, and the people to whom they carried our appeal responded with great generosity.

"One of the most gratifying things about the drive was the receptiveness of householders to our education materials. The public is becoming better informed about cancer, and because of this more cancers are going to be detected and treated in time."

The San Mateo County Branch of the American Cancer Society is at the service of county residents all year long, Mrs. Hedge pointed out, and maintains a free information center at 320 Third avenue, San Mateo, and a stock of literature, motion pictures, and other educational tools for use of the public without charge.

138 Give Blood As Mobile Unit Makes Stop Here

Some 138 residents of the South San Mateo County area visited the Peninsula Memorial Blood Bank's mobile unit when it was stationed recently at Burgess Park, Menlo Park.

Mrs. S. J. Thies served as chairman of the volunteer groups assisting at the blood drive. She was aided by Mrs. Arnold Manson, Mrs. John Tilton, Mrs. Jack Durggins, Mrs. William Platt and Mrs. Max Schwartz.

Among the organizations whose members contributed were Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, Holy Trinity Episcopal Church, Aid Association for Bethany Lutheran Church, St. Denis Council, Knights of Columbus, Menlo Park postoffice, United States Geological Service, Menlo Park Fire District, Palo Alto postoffice, Menlo Park employes, Adobe Post, American Legion, Menlo-Atherton Junior Women's Club.

Laurel PTA, Menlo Park Ward, LDS Church, National Seal Division, Menlo Park Masonic Lodge 651, Independent Order of Foresters 1953, San Mateo Elks Club, Los Altos Community, Varian Associates, Sunset Magazine, Stanford Research Institute, Menlo-Atherton High School and Menlo Park Elementary School District.

opposed, although the name of Einar Johnson also will appear on the ballot. Johnson requested withdrawal of his name after ballots had been printed.

County School Board: Thomas Needham, running unopposed.

In the Menlo Park School District, balloting will be conducted at six consolidated precinct polling places: Encinal School, Central school, Fremont school, Hillview school, Oak Knoll school and Laurel school.

There are 8794 registered voters eligible to cast ballots.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

MARK END OF FUND DRIVE

CANVASSERS AT FETE—Mrs. Albert Hedge, chairman of the San Mateo county chapter of the American Cancer Society, last week held "open house" for members of the society's county-wide canvassing team which conducted its fund drive through the month of April. The affair was at her home, 281 Hedge road. Those who attended included, left to right, Mrs. Conrad Lazzareschi of Atherton, south county division chairman; Mrs. William C. Loughlin, Atherton chairman and Mrs. Wayne C. West, Menlo Park co-chairman. —Recorder photo

Students Win Scholarships

Three Menlo Park area students were among 12 Sequoia High School District seniors to receive California State Scholarship commission awards this year, it was announced recently by Dr. Rex G., Turner, the district's superintendent.

Each award is to be used for the payment of tuition and fees not to exceed $600, at the college or university of the student's choice in California. Each winner is also entitled to apply for renewal of the scholarship.

The three from this area to receive the awards included Antoinette Jeanne Barrientos, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Barrientos of 320 Camino al Lago; William H. Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Bull of 1235 Santa Cruz avenue and Richard Louis Lemke, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lemke of 2084 Camino a los Cerros.

Autos Collide At ECR-Roble

Autos driven by Maudie G. Christensen, 16, of Palo Alto and Myrtle Loskot, 64, of 810 Arbor road, collided at El Camino Real, colliided Friday evening on El Camino Real at Roble avenue, police reported this weekend.

They said the accident occurred at 10:25 p.m., when Mrs. Loskot attempted a left turn from the highway and was struck by Miss Christensen's southbound car.

Woodside Council Views Maps, Plans for New Building Jobs

The Woodside Town Council took action on the following matters at last week's regular monthly meeting:

Approved with certain contingencies the tentative subdivision map for the Bohannon tract, Woodside Hills No. 4.

Approved a variance on setback requirements for a stable for Dr. Robert Schilling.

Approved a use permit for church school classrooms at the Woodside Village Church.

Approved application to build a storage tank for domestic water for Ralph J. Richey, 215 Joselyn lane.

Granted a permit for a new residence at 3372 Woodside road to B. F. Camp.

Granted a permit for a bathhouse to Dr. H. C. Hay, 3784 Woodside road.

Granted a permit for a swimming pool to Joseph H. Wood, 150 Brookwold road.

Referred to the planning commission Mrs. Phyllis M. Baer's request for resubdivision of two lots in Woodside Oaks No. 1.

Referred to the county assessor's office a request for reassessment of a lot in Woodside Hills No. 2.

Held in abeyance application for a residence building permit in Woodside Oaks No. 2 for Thomas A. Caswell, 1066 Cedar road, San Carlos.

Referred to the planning commission the petition from Morton Sivers and neighbors of Woodside Country Club subdivision for abandonment of certain roads held to be inexistence only on maps, not in actuality.

A DISPLAY of aquatic talent will take place in the Sequoia pool May 24 and 25 at 8 p.m. for the benefit of a new electric scoreboard for Terremere field.

THE FIREMEN were Sunday afternoon called to the W. F. Wengert residence at 2527 Hazelwood way, where the motor in a dishwasher had short circuited. There was no damage, they said, other than to the motor.

Menlo Woman Named to Head Campaign

MRS. THEODORE BLAKE

Appointment of Mrs. Theodore Blake of Menlo Park as women's chairman of the Younger Congressional Campaign committee for 1958 was announced this week by Frank B. Ingersoll of Burlingame, who is general chairman for the committee.

Mrs. Blake succeeds Mrs. Rudolph Kutsche of Atherton, who served as women's chairman for the 1956 election campaign. Mrs. Kutsche has been elected a vice president of the California State Republican Assembly and in that position will continue to assist Republican candidates.

Mrs. Blake is immediate past president of the South San Mateo County Council of Republican Women and last year served as precinct chairman for the south county district. She is a member of the Republican State Central committee and an associate member of the San Mateo county central committee.

The Blake family resides at 1325 San Mateo drive. Blake is a partner in the Irving Lundborg Co. The family includes two daughters, Judy 14, a student at Menlo-Atherton High School and Carol, 19, who attends Mills College.

Scouts Rained Out Of Overnight Camp

Twenty-seven members of Troop 107 got in their first overnight camping trip of the year at Huddart park last weekend, even though they got rained out in the "seventh inning." They camped out Friday night and completed their Saturday morning program, but rain drove them home shortly after noon.

A scrap paper drive on Saturday, May 25, is the next important event on the Troop 107 calendar. It will cover all of Menlo Park west of El Camino Real and also the Linfield Oaks area to the east of the highway. The troop committee's paper drive chairman is George Link, 48 Politzer drive.

Adult leaders last weekend were Scoutmaster Floyd Beach, assistant scoutmaster Norman McFadden, John Dusel, and Kenneth Cooperrider.

Among Other Things:

Fire District Surveys Needs For New Radio Equipment

Suggestions for future communications equipment of the Menlo Park Fire Protection District will be solicited from the district's radio technician, Frank Bella.

The commissioners Monday night instructed Chief George Carter to discuss the transmitter and receiver at headquarters station after Carter said the radio was beginning to pick up nearby frequencies.

In the event the Federal Communication Commission splits channels, the district will be unable to filter out nearby stations, Carter said.

The commissioners reported they didn't think the item would have to be included in the budget they will initiate next month but that it should be considered for the 1958-59 budget.

In other actions, the commissioners:

Inspected a new Chevrolet coupe which will be used by the assistant chiefs and company officers. The automobile will go into service as soon as radio equipment is installed.

Approved the request of B. Robert Gentry that he audit the district's books for a sum not to exceed $250. This will be the third year Gentry has conducted the audit.

Authorized Chief Carter to drive to a week-long National Fire Protection Association conference in Los Angeles beginning May 20.

Discussed the possibility of buying a manifold which would permit the district to buy air and oxygen in large tanks, thereby effecting a saving. Carter will report in June on the actual amount of air and oxygen tanks used during the last 12 months, and the commissioners will presumably make a decision on the matter at that time.

Bleachers Up For M-A Rites

Construction of graduation bleachers at a cost of $439 and repainting of lavatory walls and doors at a cost of $292.80 were major maintenance projects completed at Menlo-Atherton High School during April, it was announced this week by Dr. Rex Turner, Sequoia High School District superintendent.

Other jobs completed by the district's maintenance department during the month at the local school included construction of a tennis backboard at a cost of $316.28; building of a piano cabinet at a cost of $50 and construction of targets for the rifle club, at a cost of $12.

BURNING TIE

A smouldering railroad tie at Oak Grove avenue and the Southern Pacific tracks last Friday evening required the attention of firemen, they reported this week.

Ashton O'Donnell At Japan Nuclear Meet

(SRI)—Ashton J. O'Donnell, manager of nuclear developments at Stanford Research Institute, left last week for Japan to participate in the conference on the Peaceful Uses of Atomic Energy. The meeting is being held May 13-17 in Tokyo, with field trips to Osaka and Nagoya.

O'Donnell will deliver two papers during the meeting. He will speak on "Applications of Radiation in Industry" on Monday, May 13. The following day he will discuss "Food Preservation by Sterilization" and on Friday, May 17, in Osaka he will present a third paper on "Contributions of Atomic Energy in Industrial Research."

O'Donnell will leave Japan for a trip through Asia and the Middle East to meet with leaders in the industrial atomic energy field to discuss progress to date and future plans. He will visit Formosa, Hong Kong, India, Ceylon, Pakistan, Thailand, Iraq and Turkey.

He will then travel to Europe.

Dr. MacLeod Gets Appointment

The appointment of Dr. Angus MacLeod, Belmont optometrist and a resident of 923 Menlo avenue, Menlo Park, as a member of the California Optometric Association's Inter-Professional Relations Committee was announced today by Dr. Irving J. As We See It:

A SIMPLE CHOICE

Voters of the Menlo Park school district face a simple choice at the polls tomorrow: Elwood Williams and William Platt or J. E. Hall and Robert S. Robertson.

The Recorder recommends that you vote for Williams and Platt.

At first glance the choice may not seem so simple. Four men are running for two vacancies on the district board of trustees. How to choose the right two?

In practice, however, the issue breaks down to this: The ballot will list two men for each of two specific vacancies – a two-year term and a three-year term. Two of the candidates – one for each vacancy, namely Hall for the full term, Robertson for the shorter one – have voluntarily linked themselves as a slate. The other two candidates – Platt and Williams – have not campaigned jointly but seek their individual trusteeships on their individual merits.

Thus the voter has a relatively simple choice to make. Either agree with the Hall-Robertson position – a single, individual platform – or vote for Platt and Williams.

Thus we have three campaign positions to study, but only one choice to make: either choose the position of two men, running together with the avowed backing of "Parents for Education," or vote for the other two individuals.

Before we go into the statements and theories of any one or any pair, let us clear the decks by saying that all four candidates are capable men. This they have demonstrated in their private careers; each is a highly successful, highly respected representative of his chosen field; none is lightly to be cast aside as incompetent. In this the district is fortunate.

And also, before we go into analysis, let us establish our premise – and one with which we believe all candidates will agree – that our goal should be to create the best possible – and practical – schools we can, for our children, for the future welfare of our way of life and for our own property values.

In his campaign talks and literature, Williams has declared his interest in an enriched program in the basic subjects in the primary grades; in holding down the size of classes to make this goal possible; in encouraging school administrators to keep in closer touch with the problems of teachers and principals; in getting "the most education from our tax dollar through competent management."

We believe no one can argue with these aims. That Williams means what he says is, we think, evident from his critical view of the bond issue defeated in January and his insistence that improvement could be made in operation of the school administration.

Platt has directed his campaign toward the need for solving the district's shortage of classrooms, broadening curriculum, and attracting and retaining superior teachers and principals "through good salaries, small classes and proper school facilities."

"It is my belief that a first rate school system is the only one appropriate to our community," Platt declares. We agree.

Doubtless Robertson and Hall would argue that they, too, seek a first rate school system for the district. They, too, have spoken of the need for an "enriched program." It is the other elements of their campaign that leave us doubting the wisdom of their proposed means for achieving these goals.

Hall and Robertson call for construction of needed classrooms on existing sites – at Oak Knoll, Hillview and Encinal. They have made much of the fact that such was the recommendation of a 1955 citizens council, and they ask why bond funds approved by the district in that year have not been expended "for the purposes for which it was voted."

The $398,000 bond issue in 1955 was proposed by the board of trustees and approved by the voters on this platform: that 14 new classrooms be built with the explicit understanding that "six or seven of the proposed classrooms should be built at Oak Knoll and the remainder should be built at the new site in Stanford Village, if and when it becomes available." The bonds were also to be used to purchase that site.

The school board has built six classrooms at Oak Knoll as specified. Since it has not been able to purchase the then-proposed Stanford Village site, it has meanwhile rented temporary facilities in the Village.

Despite the constant declarations of Hall and Robertson, the balance of more than $280,000 now available to the district from the 1955 issue was NOT voted for the purpose of building 14 classrooms on existing sites.

In order to move on, however, from a belaboring of past history to the problems of the present, let us examine the candidates' aim of building more classrooms at Encinal and Hillview in the light of their stand in favor of an "enriched program" as well.

Encinal now accommodates 721 pupils, Hillview 654. Both are well above state standards for the preferred maximum size of an elementary school. To crowd still more children into schools that already are too large by the best educational standards does not, to us, seem in line with building the best school system we can for this area, nor does it seem to coincide with talk of an "enriched program," nor with hopes of getting and keeping the best teachers.

Hall has made much, in his campaign, of the need for restoring public confidence in the school administration. We agree that this is necessary, but we do not believe Hall is the man to do it. Most of the present lack of confidence is the result of Hall's own "Parents for Education" campaign against the January bond issue – a campaign which succeeded largely through confusing the issue – and of such present half-truths as the question about use of the 1955 bond funds.

We recommend that you vote tomorrow for Williams and Platt.

A whole bunch of youngsters—140 in fact—and the Atherton police are all hoping it'll stay sunny today. That's because today is the date for the Atherton police department's annual weiner roast for members of junior traffic patrols in the town.

Chief Leroy Hubbard, the genial host, says the fete—scheduled to be held at Burgess Park pool with refreshments to follow at Flood Park—will be held whether it rains or not. He's not sure where, though.

It took several minutes of blandishments by firemen to persuade a recalcitrant two-year-old to let himself out of the family bathroom at a Valparaiso avenue residence Sunday afternoon.

The firemen were called when the child's mother became alarmed. She thought the baby might get into something, having locked the door.

The smoke-eaters—family men all—arrived with their crow-bars and other tools, but found that talk worked well enough.

It may seem as though it's been a wetter spring this year than last, but the wiremen say "no."

Last spring, they had no grass fires before the middle of May. The season started May 16, and they had five before the start of June.

As of the first of the week, the firemen had put out five grass fires already this year, too. But two of these were caused by somebody putting diesel oil on the grass, then lighting it.

Fact-Finders:

'Physical Facilities' Panel Hopes to Find Five-Year Plan

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of articles dealing with the functions of the several subcommittees of the Fact-Finding Council of the Menlo Park Elementary School District.

The articles in the series are being written by the chairmen; this week's article is written by James Storm, architect and member of the Menlo Park Planning Commission, who is head of the physical facilities subcommittee of the group.

By JAMES STORM

The objective of the physical facilities committee is to recommend an outline of physical plant and site development which it believes the Menlo Park School District should follow for the next five years.

The committee will evaluate the existing schools and determine the best use of these and new facilities to meet the demands of enrollment, curriculum, and a realistic budget. It is hoped that as this committee's work progresses, much basic data will be brought forward and documented so that this valuable information may serve as working material for a continuing appraisal of our school facilities both by this committee, the School Board, or any interested group.

In working toward its goal, this committee is attempting to analyze the physical needs from an unbiased viewpoint. It is necessary to approach the problem from a broad perspective so that any recommendations will be based on sound judgment and hard facts.

The committee is beginning its work by doing the following things:

1. Gathering the facts concerning our existing school plants.
2. Personally visiting each school, in company with the School Board and administrators.
3. Gathering the facts concerning all the possible new school sites, and personally visiting these sites.
4. Studying school site standards, as recommended by the State Department of Education, and evaluating present school sites in reference to these standards.
5. Evaluating each possible new site against a list of site-selection criteria, so that each may be judged on the same basis.
6. Ascertaining the classroom needs for the next two years, based on the enrollment figures now being used by the school district.
7. Investigating the problem of converting an existing kindergarten through eighth grade school to a seventh and eighth grade school.
8. Determining desirable standards for special purpose rooms such as music, science, homemaking, arts and crafts, etc., especially in reference to space, equipment and cost.
9. Investigating construction costs of school buildings, including State Department of Finance costs for rooms of various types.

OTHER STUDIES

In addition, it is recognized that there are existing conditions in the school district which deserve our immediate study; namely, the replacement of sub-standard classrooms now being rented in Stanford Village and, the current use of special-purpose rooms for classrooms throughout the district. It is hoped that recommendations may soon be possible on these problems.

The committee is currently composed of men and women from each school area of the district and from any different walks of life. A few members are professionally engaged in the design, construction, or marketing of buildings. It is desirable to increase the membership of this committee, so that the study groups will be well attended and will represent the entire District.

Any person interested in serving on this committee should contact James Storm, 329 Linfield place, Menlo Park, DA 5-3456.

Dirigible Akron Flew Over Menlo

The files of the Menlo Park Recorder reveal that, 25 years ago this week, the following items, here reproduced exactly as first published, were news in the young community:

May 13, 1932:

"This morning early the Akron, the largest dirigible air ship in the world arrived at her home base at the Sunnyvale station and has been viewed by hundreds of people from all over the region. The big ship presented a beautiful sight as she circled the air base in the early morning sun light, looking like a huge silver streak.

"At the air base a miniaure mining town mushroom growth of hot dog and soft drink stands have sprung up, together with parking lots and everything else that goes with a big celebration.

"At 11:20 this morning the big bag was discovered east of Menlo Park and at once all business stopped for the time that the big ship remained in sight.

County Comment:

New County Salary Schedules Show Evidence of 'Favoritism'

By FLOYD M. McCUE
Editor and Publisher, Redwood City Star-Advertiser

RANK FAVORITISM AGAIN

—It's the same old story around the courthouse again as the board of supervisors takes a first look at the salary recommendations of the Civil Service Commission—or should we say the personnel director! The situation has been smelling for many years, but the "stench" this year far exceeds the favoritism displayed in years passed.

William Goggin, the secretary of the planning commission, is the man who works out all the salary schedules, supposedly as compared with the salaries in other Bay Area counties and in private industry. Members of the CS Commission must have followed Goggin's figures blindly or they have some other way of evaluating the importance of that office.

The secretary—and that is all he is—has recommended a three-step salary increase for himself along with his own assistant. Only two other officials among the county's 1200 employees are put down for such a boost.

We have and will continue to argue the importance Goggin places in his own position as it regards so many other county offices. In 1951 the personnel director was making $614 a month and his new salary will be $1013 per month.

This is ridiculous and far out of line with the pay for more important jobs that it is ridiculous. Even the building inspector who has been on the favored list now goes up one step to $857, as does the purchasing agent who has the job of spending millions of the taxpayers' money.

There are many assistant department heads with far more important and responsible position who draw about half the salary of the personnel director.

The recorder and the coroner at $9042, the tax collector at $9350, the treasurer and assessor at $9900 all get $200 a month or more LESS than the secretary to the Civil Service Commission.

Goggin has a staff of seven people in his office (and wants more) but the controller and tax collector, for example, have 27. Even the county clerk, a competent attorney and undoubtedly one of the most capable clerks in the history of the county, has an annual salary of $10,550—still less than the person who fixes the salary schedule. Compare too, if you will, the CE secretary's salary with those of the assistant and deputy district attorneys, the chief probation department aides, and many others.

Last year the supervisors placed two charter amendments on the ballot to correct such inequalities. The voters listened to the cries against tampering with the CS setup, but it is safe to say that many a county employe now feels that this rank favoritism must stop.

The answer may come in the supervisors' approval of a complete study of all county jobs as to pay and classification. Outside interests are to make this survey, as revealed exclusively in this column two weeks ago, and it is our belief that the findings will prove our point.

As the charter now reads, the supervisors have the choice of either approving the CS recommendations as presented or tossing out the entire schedule, which gives almost all employes a one-step boost. Much as they would like to correct the jet climb of Goggin's salary the board's hands are tied until after the survey is completed.

We have many times pointed out the injustices in the salary schedules of the elected officials. With the CS secretary now going over the $12,000 mark, what should the sheriff, tax collector and clerk, for instance get as an annual salary?

At least double as far as responsibility goes.

One thing is certain many of our county jobs are reaching the maximum as far as pay goes. Goggin's has passed that. Let up hope the up-coming survey will give a basic and equitable comparison of all positions and the pay they merit. Then—just as the unions do—the increases and decreases should be based on the cost of living index. In that way, no one person, or a favored two or three, gets the gravy years after year. We're sure however, the survey will increase pay all along the line.

Some people have thought our "feud" with the personnel directory as personal but such is far from the truth. We do, however, bitterly object to his giving himself a $250 per month increase, while the people who really need a sizeable pay boost get $15 or a few dollars more. No one can prove that this is fair to the hundreds of other workers who perform important jobs and get lost in the shuffle when pay raise time comes around.

Your City's Business:

Biennial Reports Tell Story of Growth of Usefulness of Park

The City of Menlo Park is about to file its fourth biennial report on use of the Burgess park-Civic center area with the federal government. As we look over the figures we are gathering for the government, we find progress that might be termed surprising.

The reports are required under terms of the contract of purchase of this 26 acres from the former Dibble hospital property; when the city acquired the land, for the bargain price of $78,000, it was agreed that we should keep the federal government informed of the improved public use of it through the years.

Before Menlo Park's title will be free and clear, we will have filed 10 reports—each one showing a growth in plant, a greater number of persons employed, and a more intensive use.

Perhaps a little history would be in order:

The city acquired the property in 1948. Under the terms of our original agreement, we were to purchase it for half the market of the land alone, since the buildings left over from Dibble hospital were considered more of a liability than an asset.

Liability or not, the "temporary" buildings of the federal hospital have served Menlo Park well, and continue to do so. There has been some remodelling, to be sure, and expansion of activity has required us to build some new garages, and to provide the building inspector with an office of his own. But basically, the group of buildings which makes up the "city hall" and the others which are under the direction of the recreation department are much as they were when taken over from the government.

Our first report on how we were using the recreational part of these facilities was filed with the federal government in 1951.

It showed the city as having one recreation director, one maintenance man for the Burgess Park Little Theater and gym and several part-time employees, principally summer employees at the pool.

It listed 10 "major play areas" such as the gymnasium floor, the handball courts, tennis courts, swimming pool, little Theater, and so forth.

It also listed 25 "major improvements" undertaken during the two years of city ownership. These included some of the first things we did when we acquired the property such as construction of bleachers, parking areas, and generally refurbishing the former army hospital buildings.

One must remember that, before the acquisition of Burgess park, the city had no recreation program at all.

Our budget showed $14,5[illegible] for capital improvements during the 1949-50 fiscal year, and $24,850 for 1950-51.

By 1953 things were taking on an appearance closer to that of today. With Burgess park as the center, we were able to develop a recreation program which reached to the school playgrounds throughout the city; this was reflected in a budget of three full-time people and 28 part-time workers.

Our budget had risen too, with $30,122 spent for improvements during the 1951-52 year and $32,762 during 1952-53.

By this time we were improving the meeting rooms in the City Council Chambers building; we had constructed bicycle racks at Burgess gym and at the pool; we had put neat seats in Burgess park Little Theater and done a host of other things.

By 1955 the recreation program had grown still further. We had four full time workers at Burgess park, and the recreation department had employed 42 part-time workers.

During the 1953-54 year the city spent $45,056 on its budget; the improvements cost $46,148 during the 1954-55 year.

Our current report will show that, during 1955-56 we spe[illegible] $53,995 and during the 1956-57 year we spent $68,752. We are reporting a staff of four full-time and 52 part-time employees.

The recreation program will continue to grow, and with it the maintenance and improvement budget we report to the federal government every two years.

However, without the full utilization we are giving it, the city's acquisition of federal land in the Dibble hospital area might well have become a "white elephant" and the city council feels that it's money well spent to improve and maintain what we have.

FAIR EDITORIAL

Editor, the Recorder:

I just want you to know how pleased I was to read the very fair editorial you wrote in your May 2nd issue on unification. Knowing your convictions it seemed to me you handled the report of the committee in an entirely unbiased manner.

This presentation certainly should be helpful to clear thinking on the part of your reading public.

Cordially yours,
Rex H. Turner,
Superintendent,
Sequoia High School District.

FOR HALL, ROBERTSON

Editor, the Recorder:

We, the undersigned, were members of the Study Committee responsible for the preparation of the 1955 Citizens Report, "Enrollment Trends, Growth Potential, and Land Usage." This report was very thorough, far more so than either previous or following studies . The accuracy of the report has been borne out by subsequent statistics. Numerous references have been made to this report, resulting oft times in misunderstandings or mis-quotes. To clarify this situation, the highlights of the report can be summarized as follows:

a. Development of the Menlo Park Elementary School District is nearing a terminal state. In 1955, 595 unimproved lots were available, allowing, with maximum zoning utilization, the construction of 783 additional dwellings. This strengthens the reliability of future predictions.

b. In 1954, 2,235 students were registered. The 1965 registration, a maximum to be realized, will be 2,650 students. Increased Parochial School capacity, on the basis of minimum expected attendance, provides for many of the new students and extends facilities to other students who heretofore had been denied the privilege of Parochial School attendance.

c. The construction of 14 additional classrooms on presently available school sites is completely consistent with growth requirements providing the additional class rooms and multi-purpose rooms required. Note, these were considered adequate facilities, not minimum requirements.

The recommendations of Mr. Hall are consistent with the above findings and embody other issues of timely importance. Our children have needed and continue to need improved class room facilities . The continued interjection of unrealistic programs have introduced unnecessary delays in our facility planning. Immediate action is required. The directness of approach and soundness of policy represented by Mr. James E. Hall and Robert S. Robertson has our most hearty approval and we unanimously recommend them for election.

FOR PLATT, WILLIAMS

Editor, the Recorder:

The undersigned were seven of the nine members of the Executive Committee of the 1955 Citizens Council for the Menlo Park Elementary School Distrit—the so-called "genuine" Citizens Council. Because of the implied claims of J. E. Hall that he somehow represents the viewpoint of that group, we feel impelled to set the record straight.

It is true that the final report of the Citizens Council recommended the construction of fourteen classrooms on existing sites plus the retention of a reserve school site in addition. The recommendation was made because:

1. All members of the Executive Committee and substantially all members of the Council recognized that this was the minimum which was required immediately in the way of new facilities; most of us believed that further additions would be required in the near future.

2. The cost of this minimum program could be fitted within the district's bond limit as it then existed; now our bonding capacity is greater because of repayment of debt as well as because of increases in assessed valuation.

3. We were certain that such a bond issue could be passed—as it was, by a five to one margain. This was important at that time because of the defeat of a prior bond issue.

The recommendation was for what we felt to be a workable interim solution. We did not feel that we were adopting a blueprint for all time, certainly not one which could be fixed and unalterable, like the Code of Hammurabi.

The interjection of the 1955 report into the present election is, however, somewhat irrelevant. The question now is the selection of school board members. We believe that William Platt and Elwood Williams would best serve the district. We intend to vote for them and urge others to do likewise.

Richard Barbour,
Jack S. Davis,
Mrs. Edwin A. Gross,

DANGER OF ERROR

Editor, the Recorder:

The prediction of school population trends cannot be exact. In a district such as the Menlo Park Elementary School District even a nominal and expected 10-20 per cent error in population trends can amount to 250-500 additional school children. The 1955 Citizens Council report on enrollment trends has been cited as an exact prediction, while actually it has a built-in error of possible explosive importance.

It is a simple job to count houses in the district (estimated to be 5200 in 1960) but prediction of the volatile student/home ratio is subject to important errors. For example, in the old district of Menlo Park (Fremont) in 1955 there was 0.26 students per house, in the new Hillview district 0.76 students per house, in Oak Knoll the ratio was 0.82. Atherton too is undergoing a tremendous social change; nearly devoid of children before the war, the new Atherton district of Lindenwood had .68 students per house in 1955. The enrollment trends committee ignored these tremendous differences in districts and used a ratio of 0.5 students/house, equivalent to 2600 students in 1960. The committee ignored the social revolution taking place in the districts in general and in the old town district of Atherton, which is following, more slowly, the trend established in Lindenwood. A mere change in the ratio from the predicted 0.5, by 10 per cent to 0.6, which does not even approach the higher levels of Oak Knoll, Lindenwood, Hillview, and Linfield Oaks, can add 500 children to the District. Menlo Park cannot afford to be unprepared. Additional school sites for the unknown future must be acquired before all available sites disappear. We cannot wait until it is too late. No one can know how many children will be in the District in 1960, 1965, and 1970. We must act today, it is almost our last chance. Continued classroom building on present sites is a plan for catastrophe. Menlo Park must face its responsibilities to its children.

C. M. Himel,
1165 Rosefield Way,

Walter Has Own:

'FAMOUS 41'

Walter, wearing his striped alpaca blazer, straw boater, and a fresh boutonniere, handed us his report and informed:

"Henceforth," gentlemen, you shall address me as 'Mickey'."

"That's plagiarism," we said.

"Maybe. But Jayne Mansfield has a boy friend named Mickey, and she'll be in town this weekend. I got thinking she might bring along a friend—the right size for me, you know."

"I see," we rejoined. "And that coat you're wearing, with the belt in the back? Isn't it sort of out of date, for the Circus club?"

"Not at all,' said Walter. "It's 41, too. But that's its age."

VISIT IN WASHINGTON

Brent Lambert of Atherton and Mr. and Mrs. Ben L. Voss and Jay Voss of Menlo Park, were recent visitors at the Washington offices of Congressman J. Arthur Younger, who represents San Mateo county in the legislature.

MEMBERS OF THE Santa Clara Audubon Society toured Contra Costa Ranch in the San Felipe area on May 11. Leader was Miss Elsie Hoeck.

5 Classrooms At Stake In Woodside

Construction of five new classrooms for the present Woodside Elementary school and funds to buy a portion of land needed for a second school site rest on the decision of Woodside School District voters tomorrow in the $150,000 bond election.

School officials have pointed out that overcrowded conditions already exist in some classrooms, and enrollment percentage in Woodside School between October 31, 1956, and March 29, 1957, increased 7.50 per cent, more than other school districts in San Mateo county.

Accepted maximum capacity for the present site is 450 students, a number which could be accommodated by September, 1958, if voters pass the bond issue and construction goes ahead on the proposed five classrooms. There are presently 314 students at Woodside school.

Two school site committees have studied location of possible sites since December, 1954, and in November, 1956, the second committee submitted its final report. Since the district was not in a position to purchase the recommended ten acres on a cash basis at that time, the district has been in the process of purchasing 3.58 acres of the site on an option basis over a period of three years.

Money from the sale of the proposed bonds would permit purchase of the balance of the ten acres. An adjoining 4.5 acres is under one year option pending the outcome of the election.

Location of the second school site is on and around the Cazahous property on Tripp road.

Fredric C. Boucke of 386 Mountain Home road, is the single candidate running for trustee of the Woodside Elementary school district.

High School Students Visit J&J Plant Here

A practical insight into modern business operation was given a group of Menlo-Atherton High School students at the Johnson & Johnson plant, Menlo Park, Tuesday.

The students, selected because of their interest, ability and scholastic records, were assigned to various departments of the surgical dressings and bay products manufacturing firm to observe them at work at the annual J&J Students Day in Modern Industry. They were guests of Milton O'Donnell, plant manager, at a luncheon.

In the traffic department were Lawson Lowe and Dale Stopp; secretarial, Carole Cole, Jan Collins and Marilyn Mumford; electronics, Henry Heubeck, Lee Donaghey and Dick Lemke; engineering Allan Burns; inventory, Jayne Todd and Peter Graham; order department, Donna Bishop and Jack Heidenreich.

Len Goularte was the faculty member in charge of juniors and seniors in the group.

'Mielke Drive' Formalized

Mielke drive is the new name of "B" street in Burkess Park between Alma and Laurel streets following passage of a resolution by Menlo Park's City Council Tuesday night.

The street was renamed in honor of Max Mielke, who, as the city's first administrator, doubled as building inspector and administrator. Mielke was killed in 1948 in an automobile accident at Glenwood avenue and the SP tracks.

His widow, Lillian M., lives at 1347 University avenue in Menlo Park.

WILLIAM PLATH

William J. Platt is Assistant Director of Economics at Stanford Research Institute, which he joined in 1949.

Platt came to SRI from Convair in San Diego, where he was Chief of Methods and Controls. He has a B.A. degree from Pomona College, and an M.S. from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Platt is active in national professional management societies, and is associate editor of the Journal, "Operations Research." He has authored many articles in scientific and trade journals.

He and Mrs. Platt live at 151 Laurel street, Atherton ,and are the parents of seven children — one in high school, three in Encinal and Laurel Schools and three pre-school.

STATEMENT OF CANDIDATE

A first rate school system is the only one appropriate to our community. To achieve this the next Board needs to deal courageously with two major problems, which if uncorrected, will lead to a decline in the District's elementary education: the shortage of classrooms, and the difficulty of attracting and retaining superior teachers and principals in the face of a growing national shortage.

There is an existing shortage of 13-15 classrooms. This includes Laurel School and three to five classrooms needed to reduce the number of students per classroom back to maximums that represent good educational practice.

Laurel School consists of 10 temporary classrooms converted from the hospital built during the war in Stanford Village. The buildings do not meet earthquake requirements; lighting is poor. My opponent tries to spread the notion that Laurel serves only Stanford Village residents. Actually 63 of the 221 students at Laurel come from families living in Stanford Village. Over two-thirds come from Linfield Oaks and other parts of Menlo Park and Atherton that are in no sense temporary.

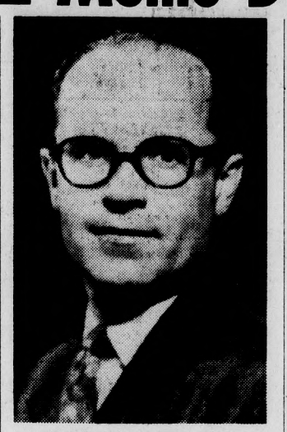

To add needed classrooms to Encinal would be to make it a school of almost 1000 enrollment The District should acquire a new site and build a new elementary school.

The District has $280,000 remaining in its building and site fund, sufficient to acquire a site and pay for part of the construction.

My second point is the need for the District to compete successfully for superior teachers and principals. As a District we will be able to attract and retain superior teachers and principals only by keeping salary schedules competitive, by providing facilities that are not overcrowded and most important, by creating an environment of high expectation, of confidence and prestige.

If the Board does not meet the above problems squarely, but tries to sweep them under the rug as my opponent seems to advocate the decline of our school system and eventually of our community is inevitable.

I pledge that if elected I shall work constructively for the whole District to develop a first rate educational program, one appropriate to the character of our community.

ROBERT ROBERTSON

Robert Robertson, 203 Felton drive, has been a resident of the Menlo Park Elementary School District since 1942.

At present an estate analyst for Connecticut General Life Insurance Co. with offices in San Francisco, he is a veteran of World War II and president of the Northern California section of the Counter Intelligence Corps association.

A graduate of Stanford University, he is the father of two children, one attending Encinal School and the other, Menlo-Atherton High School.

He is seeking the two-year term on the district's board of trustees.

STATEMENT OF CANDIDATE

It seems to me that it is time we gave some good, practical, clear thinking to our school problem. Let me make it perfectly clear that I am strongly in favor of providing the very best elementary education for our children that we can possibly afford. I am completely in favor of the so-called "enriched program." I am anxious to see our schools provide such remedial courses as appear to be necessary or desirable, especially in the field of reading. However, I believe these courses should be provided on the basis of "keep up" rather than "catch up."

I am also in favor of our children and teachers having all of the necessary and proper facilities to accompany any educational program which is decided upon. On the other hand, I am definitely against placing primary emphasis on playgrounds and tennis courts. Let us provide the necessary and desirable educational facilities first before we start worrying about the extras. It does not seem to me that we need more playground space, especially in this area which is famous for the sizes of its backyards.

I am in favor of devoting a larger share of our money to good salaries for our teachers so that we will attract and retain the services of the very best teachers available. The quality of our teachers is certainly the most important single element in our schools. When we vote bond issues to build new schools we incur the obligation to pay the interest on those bonds as well as to repay the principal. To the extent that the district is burdened by high fixed charges of this nature, it is limited in the amount of funds available to pay the teachers' salaries. Until we have sufficient funds to pay excellent salaries to our teachers so that we can attract and retain the services of the very best, I cannot see the justification for investing more money in school sites.

At the present time I don't think an additional site is necessary simply because we are not facing an increased enrollment. The permanent school plants presently operating in the district were planned to provide adequate facilities for our present permanent enrollment.

I am strongly in favor of maintaining the average size of our first three grades are about 25 pupils and the average size of our fourth through eighth grades at about 30 pupils.

ELWOOD WILLIAMS

Elwood A. Williams, 41, his wife Frances Williams and their three children, Rodger, 12, Joan, 9, and Barbara, 6, who attend Encinal School, reside at 162 Greenoaks drive, Atherton.

Williams is a native Californian, born in San Francisco ,attended local schools and in 1938 graduated from the Univeristy of California with a BS in electrical engineering. He is also a registered professional engineer in California He has lived with his family on the Peninsula for the past 16 years. He is employed by the Sperry Gyroscope Co. as assistant district manager of the Pacific Central District office.

Currently he is on the Encinal PTA board; he is a trustee of the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church, on the Education Committee and a teacher in the Church School, in the junior department. He has also been active in past years in Scouting.

STATEMENT OF CANDIDATE

In running for the School Board I deem it a worthy and challenging time to want to be a trustee on the Menlo Park School Board.

I have felt that the time is now to look to the future with a forward look. A community of this scope and intelligence should be aware of the needs of our children as first in importance.

We should present an example to our children with clear vision of their needs — academically speaking in the basic fundamentals of learning—and go ahead with courage and action.

Let us not be fooled by people who feel that failure of a bond issue indicates the solution to our needs and that now we can cover with substitute results for the real thing!

Ask ourselves, are we thinking of every child as the one who is entitled to be educated to his ut most capabilities. Are we fair to each individual child to prevent him from having a good teacher-learning relationship? Are we aware of the need to attract good teachers skilled in remedial work reading, literature, science, mathematics and to attract specialists in these fields?—thus developing our educational standards to a higher level.

It is my intention to cope with these problems in a sound, economic manner.

I do not feel that the above is of my own thinking for in attending almost every Board meeting since 1955, I feel that I have become very well versed in the thinking of the majority of people in this community. I have been called the most experienced of the non-incumbent candidates. It is my belief that the majority of the people in the community desire the best possible school program in keeping with the character of the community within the economic limits—imposed by good management. We must get the most out of the tax dollar!

JAMES E. HALL

James E. Hall, 179 Burns avenue, Atherton, chairman of Parents for Education, has filed for the vacancy on the Menlo Park Elementary School Board, created by the expiration of Ben Holland's term.

Hall, an internationally known food canner and technologist, has served in various national capacities on technical and research advisory committees of the National Canners' Association and the National Association of Frozen Food Packers.

He was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1910, and educated in elementary and high schools in Portland, Oregon, following which he attended Notre Dame and Northwestern Universities.

He is married to Eleanor Patten Hall, formerly of Bozeman, Montana, and they have three children, James Jr., 20, who attends school at Monterey; Sue, 16, at Menlo-Atherton High School, and Patsy, 9, at Encinal.

He has resided here for the past three years.

STATEMENT OF CANDIDATE

Our elementary school district is indeed fortunate. With static or declining enrollment in sight, we have sufficient bond money in the bank to complete the district's schools. With the fourth highest permissive tax rate in the county, we have ample funds to provide our children of today with the kind of elementary public school education of which most districts dream.

To do this, we must complete our school buildings with the necessary rooms at each school to provide for the curriculum planned. Through better management, better education can be realized by taking a prudent and thrifty approach to the non-educational expenses of this District.

The savings to be realized should be used to provide for the best in teaching staff including special help.

Of particular importance, is the restoration of confidence in the school administration by insisting upon complete disclosure of all facts relating to public matters. The people of this District are generous and want their children well educated. At all times the public must be kept fully informed.

If elected, Mr. Robertson and I shall invite the other board members to join with us in:

1. Restoring community confidence in the school administration.
2. Sustaining and improving a complete educational program.
3. Adopting sound fiscal policies (based on long-range prudent planning) to assure that money intended for education is spent for education. And,
4. Using as much of the 1955 bond money as is necessary for the purpose for which it was voted; namely, building the needed school rooms on our present and ample sites.

Clerida Home Damaged by Fire

A fire of unknown origin resulted in an estimated $35 damage to the home of Laurie Clerida, 1311 Almanor avenue last Friday evening, Menlo Park Fire District firemen report.

They said the blaze started in a storage cabinet at the rear of the home's carport. They estimated damage at $25 to a mattress and some bed springs, and said the structure itself was damaged to the amount of an additional $10.

Polio Incidence Down Sharply

Only two cases of polimyelitis were reported in San Mateo county in the first four months of 1957, as compared with 17 cases during the first four months of 1956 and nine cases during the first four months of 1955.

This was announced this week by Dr. H. D. Chope, director of the San Mateo county Health and Welfare department. A total of $175,914 doses of free polio vaccine have been used since it became available in the county about two years ago, Dr. Chope declared.

A SHORT CIRCUIT in a furnace motor at Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 330 Donohoe street, resulted in a call to Menlo Park Fire District firemen Saturday morning. The firemen said damage was confined to the motor.

New Financing For Schools In Portola Area

Admiral Joseph F. Quilter Monday at a public meting attended by more than 60 people urged passage of the new Portola Valley School financing proposals which will be voted on at the May 17 election. The meeting, held at the Portola Valley School and sponsored by the Portola Valley Association, featured a discussion panel composed of Dr. Lincoln E. Moses, school board member running unopposed for re-election; Anthony Rose, school principal, and Admiral Quilter.

In the February elections long range financing plans (three to four years) for the school, which were opposed by Quilter, were rejected by the voters. The new short range financing plan (one to two years) which was outlined at the meeting is designed to provide for the expected 50 per cent increase in enrollment at the school by 1958.

In the May 17 election the voters will be asked to authorize the school district to incur a bonded indebtedness of $100,000 for expansion of school facilities, to accept up to $135,000 in State building funds, and to raise the permissive tax rate by 40 cents to pay for increased operating expenses.

The meeting was chairmanned by Robert V. Brown, president of the Portola Valley Association.

Catholic Youth Invited to Meeting in P.A.

"Is it all right for a ninth grade girl to have boys at her home when her parents aren't there"; "what about teen-age marriages"; "are there any special privileges for engaged couples"; "who has the greatest moral responsibility on dates, the boy or girl"?

These will be among questions which teen-agers will be aksing and discussing Sunday, in a day-long talkfest with a Catholic priest.

The meeting, to which Catholic members of area public high school student bodies have been invited, is to be held at St. Mary of the Valley chapel in Palo Alto.

Members of 'teenagers' clubs of both St. Raymond's and Church of the Nativity parishes are planning to attend the affair, over which the Rev. Felix Flynn of the San Francisco Archdiocesan Mission Band will preside.

Father Flynn will give a series of talks, based on many years of experience in youth counselling.

The day will begin with Mass at 9 a.m., followed by breakfast. The question-and-answer period will follow.

DATE IS SET

Date of the Menlo Park Rotary club's annual inauguration ball has been set for June 28, it was announced this week.

Salaries Go Up As School Board Gets Ready for 1957-58 Budget

When the Ravenswood City School District board of trustees sit down to consider the school budget for 1957-58, they will have salary increases pushing up the total, for Monday night raises were granted to principals, consultants, secretaries and nurses.

Teacher salary increases were also authorized with the proviso that they be put into effect if and when state assembly bill no. 3045 is passed and money is available to support it.

Principals will receive ten increases in three classifications: A—starting at $6,250 and ending at $8,500, with $250 per year increment; B—starting at $6,500 with tops $8,750, with $250 per year increment; C—starting at $6,750 and reaching $9,000 with $250 per year increment.

Consultants will also be divided into three classifications with $225 across the board and $225 down the schedule. A—$5,400 to $7,000; B—$5,625 to $7,125; C—$5,840 to $7,425.

School secretary, receptionist-clerk, clerk-stenographer, accounting clerks will have beginning salaries of $275 and $345 tops; Business manager's secretary, administrative assistant's secretary start at $290 and go to $360; Bookkeeper starts at $305 and hits top at $385; Superintendent's secretary starts at $310 and goes to $390.

This is an advancement of $25.00 but secretaries are still the lowest paid group in the district including clustodians, gardners and bus drivers, according to the schedule report.

There are four classifications for teachers, starting with A — $4,200-$5,400; B—$4,400-$5,800; C—$4,800-$6,500; and D—$5,200-$7,200.

This latter schedule was considered at a teachers meeting Tuesday night.

FIREMEN TREAT WOMAN, 30, IN NFO

A 30-year-old North Fair Oaks housewife was taken to Sequoia hospital for treatment, after experiencing difficulty in breathing. Menlo Park Fire District firemen reported that they were called to the woman's home at 10:46 p.m., and that she was taken to the hospital after receiving resuscitator treatment.

Menlo Resident Cited at Moffett Field

George E. Wilcox of 1044 Oakland avenue was officially cited recently at Moffett Field for an act of heroism which, naval air station Commanding Officer Captain A. S. Hill declared, saved the lives of two persons anda government vehicle.

Wilcox, who is road test rating examiner at the base, was conducting a road test for an enlisted man when the car was stopped on the railroad tracks, in Mountain View.

The driver panicked, as the crossing gates at the particular crossing being used had started to descend. Wilcox was able to restart the engine of the vehicle and get off the railroad tracks seconds before the approaching train arrived, Capt. Hill declared.

The Menlo Park man has been an employee of the air station for 15 years and for the past seven years has been charged with the responsibility of giving road tests to military personnel and civilian employees to qualify them to drive government vehicles.

Capt. Hill presented a Superior Accomplishment award check of $200 to Wilcox, in official recognition of his accomplishment.

OBITUARY

John Bongio

John M. Bongio, a resident of Menlo Park for the past five years, died last Thursday evening at Community Hospital in San Mateo after a short illness. He was 87.

Bongio, who was a native of Italy, had resided with a son, Egidio, at 820 University drive during his years in residence here. He had made his home in Richmond prior to moving here, and had been a carpenter during his active career.

Surviving him, besides Egidio are daughters Mrs. Rena Dioli of Menlo Park and Mrs. Contanze Tonelli of Richmond and two other sons, Robert Bongio of Richmond and Joe Bongio of Oakland. Nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren also survive.

Funeral services were conducted Monday in Richmond, and interment was at St. Joseph's Cemetery in that city.

Local arrangements were by the Johnston and Tinney Colonial Chapel, 650 Live Oak avenue.

M-A Varsity, C's Top SPAL Meet

The Highwayman

By BILL FINEFROCK, Recorder Auto Editor

Stanford Racing Team to Enter Three Cars in Santa Barbara, Santa Rosa Races

At least three cars of the newly-formed Stanford University racing team will compete at Santa Barbara road races this weekend, and the same team is expected to compete at Santa Rosa this month after receiving authorization from the university recently.

Jim Ralph will drive his Porsche at Santa Barbara, John Free will pilot an MGA, and John Masterson a Corvette.

The trio is part of an eight-man team formed to compete in both races and gymkhanas. Although recognized by the university, the men receive no financial aid from the school.

Winery Is Destination of Model A Restorers Saturday

Beaulciu Winery, near Rutherford, will be the destination of members of the Northern California Model A Restorers Club when they take a tour Saturday.

The "A" owners are expected to meet at the northern end of the Golden Gate Bridge at 10 a.m. or at the junction of highways 48 and 29 at 11:15 a.m.

Tasting of the winery's wares is scheduled before a picnic luncheon, while a tour of the winery will take place in the afternoon.

Tri-Angles Sweep Field at KHMC's 24-Hour Rallye

Members of the Tri-Angles took first, second and fourth places in the senior class of Kings Highway Motor Club's fifth annual 24-Hour Rallye Saturday and Sunday.

Bob and Ann Cook of San Jose were first with a score of 294, followed by Gene and Doris Hammond of Menlo Park. Dave and Bobbie Davis took fourth place.

Third spot in the senior class went to Warren Epstein and Fisher of Kings Highway Motor Club.

Dow and Haley of the Highwaymen were first in the novice class. Team award went to the Cooks, the Davis' and Gene Kiggins and Bill Olsen—all Tri-Angles.

All 22 cars which started the event at noon Saturday turned up at the finish in Morgan Hill Sunday morning. The rally started in Hillsdale, went across the Dumbarton bridge, to Yosemite National Park, Fresno and then in a westerly direction to the finish.

Jones Team Wins Stanford's Con Home Rallye Friday

Robert Jones Sr. and Dan Jones piloted their TR to a three second error to win Stanford Sports Car Club's Con Home Rallye Friday night.

Jack Spindler and Taffy Constant of Menlo Park were second with a 15-second error. Team award for the event, which was a straight time-and-distance rally, went to Stern Hall while coeds from Roble Hall were second.

The winning team consisted of drivers Charles Livengood, Pat Pinkham and Frank Dinsmore, and Joan Palmer, Charlotte Jones and Carol Coleman represented Roble Hall.

Twenty-three car participated in the rally, which netted the same amount of dollars for the Stanford Convalescent Home. The event started at Stanford stadium.

The club's next rally will be held in October, after school convenes in the fall.

19 Bears To Joust In NCS

Nine varistymen and 10 class B representatives of Menlo-Atherton High School cinder teams are set to go to Los Gatos tomorrow, to see if they'll get berths in North Coast Section competition at Edwards Field in Berkeley May 25.

Tomorrow's subsection meet starts with qualifiers at 2 p. m. and will have an evening session beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Judging from recent performances, avers track Coach Don Dorfmeier, the Bears have an excellent chance of getting a fair representation up to the East Bay hillside.

Both Tom Strong and Bob Atkinson, for instance, established new PAL discus and shot put records, respectively, before being rained off the turf of Stanford's stadium last Saturday afternoon.

The delegation to Los Gatos tomorrow will include, besides these stalwarts, the following varsitymen:

Burton Bruce, relay; Ray Carter, relay; Nick Castner, relay and half mile; Dick Campbell, high jump; Ron Foster, hurdles; Bob Kennedy, hurdler and high jumper and Dave Skuce, high jumper.

For the B's the delegation will be Joe Austin, broad jump; Terry Baker, sprinter; Charles Bubb, hurdles; Norm Chapin, high jump; Fred Coutrer, high jump; John Finegold, broad jump; Doug Hovik, sprints, relay; Lee Pennel, discus; Gary Stangeland, pole vault and Dick Winter, shot put.

Oak Diamond Team Wins 4 Of 5 Games

Diamondmen from Menlo College ended league play on a winning note, taking victories in four of their last five contests last week.

Defeating Stanford's frosh 4-3 in 10 innings, the Oaks went on to knock Vallejo out of first place in the league by beating them twice, 3-1 and 1-0.

The defeat gave first place in the conference to the San Jose Junior College Bulldogs.

GETS SIX HITS

Ted Falk, allowing one run on six hits, was the victor of the first Oak-Vallejo battle. He struck out 13 batters while walking three. Oak first sacker Noel Barnes collected three of five Menlo hits, driving in the winning run.

Darryl Morrision was the stalwart in the second contest ,pitching to 22 men. He allowed three hits, struck out five Vallejo batters and walked six. Two double plays, which had the fans on their feet, stopped Redskin rallies.

Barnes was again the big gun at the plate, getting two hits in four trips to the plate. He also drove in the game's only run.

BEAT HARTNELL

On Saturday, the Oaks split a double header with Hartnell, losing the first game 3-0 and winning the second 1-0.

Falk was the loser in the first event, allowing three runs on nine hits. He struck out nine batters and walked two. Two errors enabled the Panthers to put men in scoring positions from which they crossed home plate. The Oaks collected two hits, with Barnes getting one of them.

Morrison got credit for the second game, giving up three hits, striking out three men and walking one. Menlo collected four hits; the winning run was driven in by Bill Fountain. Barnes got another hit and ended league play with a .467 batting average.

Lose to Visalia

Jerry Bratten and Bob Cherry, Menlo College's first doubles team, lost to Modesto's first team in the semi-finals of the Northern California Junior Tennis Tournament last weekend.

REHEARSE FOR VARIETY SHOW

SURROUNDED BY FLAPPERS is George Potter, one of the directors of Church of the Nativity's annual variety show this weekend and next. Entitled "Cavalcade of Hits, 1920-1957," the show will be held at 8 p.m. in the parish hall Friday, Saturday, and May 24-25. The flappers are Mrs. William A. Carberry (left) and Mrs. Peter Bolich, who will dance in the show.

Set 4 Performances:

Audience Will Travel Through 37 Musical Years at Area Show

Church of the Nativity's "Cavalcade of Hits 1920-1957" gets underway Friday at 8 p.m. in the church's parish hall on Oak Grove avenue. Additional performances of the variety show will be held Saturday night and again May 24-25.

Directed by Mrs. George Beall, George Potter and David Mari, the audience will travel musically with the help of narrator Robert Susinetti over a span of 37 years.

Wendy Vacke and Dan Zafferana will dance a "bop" number, while the Charleston era will be depicted by Mrs. John Skrabo, Mrs. Daniel D'Alessandra, Mrs. Peter Bolich, Patrick Currier and David Dekaney.

"A Pretty Girl" will be presented by Mrs. Patrick Moran, Mrs. Robert Naegele, Mrs. Joseph Demeter and Mrs. William Carberry.

Yvonne Tomasena will sing "In a Little Spanish Town" and "Ramona," while David Mari will present "Margie." Mrs. Louis Walker will impersonate Kate Smith for several numbers.

Harpo Marx will be impersonated by Mrs. David Mari at the harp, and Mrs. Dean Parkinson will sing "Jealousy."

Mrs. George Potter and David Mari will present a hula dance, while Miss Pat Sullivan will dance a calypso. "Lazy Bones" will be sung by Mrs. Sidney Madden.

Cubs Seek to Improve Record In Palo Alto

The Cubs of Menlo-Atherton are to end their 12-game season this week, hoping for an improvement in their seven win, three loss, one tie statistics for the season.

Opponent, who was to have been met yesterday, was Wilbur Junior High School in Palo Alto.

Whatever happens, the Cubs will still be in second place in their league, with Sequoia's Papooses—who accounted for one M-A loss and the tie—holding onto the top spot.

As of Tuesday, Coach Ed Mackin wasn't able to say who he was going to start on the mound. He's got four talented youngsters he's going to send on to sophomoredom next year, any one of whom may be it. These are Bob Kinsley, Harry Reece, Cap Pinney and Mike Flynn.

M-A Frosh Take Win from Acorns

Five runs in the first and third innings proved to be too much for their foes as Menlo-Atherton's freshman baseball team defeated Menlo School 11-3 at M-A last week.

A highlight of the game was a three-run homer by the Cubs' Bucky Clark. His teammate, Larry Fallstrom, hit two doubles and a single in three trips to the plate.

Walker to Talk At Garden Club

Edward Walker, Mountain View nurseryman, will discuss "Rare Plants" at a meeting of the Garden Club of Menlo Park Thursday, May 23, at 8 p.m. The meeting will be held at Little House.

The club's nominating committee will also propose names for the board of directors at the meeting.

Visitors have been invited to attend the meeting by club president Verne Leahy.

Golfers to Go To Tournaments

A busy schedule faces Menlo College golfers this weekend with the team slated to play in both Coast Conference and State tournaments.

The Oaks travel to Monterey Thursday and Friday to compete in the conference match. Then on Sunday morning, the top four Menlo golfers will fly to San Diego for a state tournament Monday. The Southern California match is a 36-hole event.

Final match for the Oaks, which was to have been with Monterey last week, was cancelled because of a lack of course facilities.

"PROBLEMS OF AMERICAN OPERA," a lecture by Douglas S. Moore, chairman of Columbia University's music department, is next on the calendar of Stanford University's Tuesday evening series. The event will be in Memorial Hall at 7:30 p.m.

MP to Field Five Babe Ruth Teams

Five teams from Menlo Park, five from Palo Alto and two from Los Altos will compete for honors in the Babe Ruth Baseball League, which begins its schedule in June.

More than 150 boys have tried out for the teams, which will consist of 15 boys. Each team plays two games with every other team, giving each squad a 22-game schedule.

Menlo Park teams will be: Lowes Realty, Sharin System, Red Cottage, Menlo Motors, and the Menlo Grays(sponsored by Menlo Park merchants).

Games will be played Tuesday evenings and Saturday mornings at Flood Park, Burgess park, Cubberley High School (P.A.), Palo Alto High School and Los Altos High School.

Bruins Travel to Lincoln Friday

Coach Sam Lugonja's Menlo-Atherton sophomore baseball team, with a 6-2 record in SPAL baseball contention as of Monday, travels to Lincoln tomorrow to see what could be done with the Lions Club of San Jose.

The Bruins are pretty much out of the running for any kind of honors, having succumbed to San Jose's attack, 3-2 last Friday in the Garden City.

Sequoia Braves, who they met Tuesday, are still the powerhouse operators of the league.

B's Lose by Slight Margin at Stanford

Menlo-Atherton High School's track teams wrapped up just about the best season anybody could hope for Tuesday, cleaning up varsity and class C PAL titles and losing in the B division by something less than two-thirds of a point.

The Bears edged Capuchino, 42⅝ to 41 16/21 to take the varsity title; the C's got past San Jose, 31¼ to 30½ to prove themselves the best of the area's 16 high school's lightweight teams.

The B's owed their defeat to a come-through performance in high jumping by Burlingameites and came in with 41 16/21 to the north county school's 42 3/7.

The meet, discontinued after most events were run Saturday, resumed at Stanford Stadium Tuesday afternoon, and all division wins were in doubt until the finale.

In the Saturday meet, both Tom Strong and Bob Atkinson managed to add something to the how by setting new PAL records: Strong with a 150' discus throw and Atkinson with a new record hot put of 56' 6¾".

Both Strong and Atkinson will be contenders for the locals in the coming North Coast Section contention but, on the whole, the local season has been wrapped up.

"All season long, we had the benefit of about the best balanced track team I've seen," Coach Don Dorfmeier declared this week.

"We didn't set as many records as we might have, though, because of bad weather most of the season and the fact that this limited some of our potential." No new speed records were set by locals at Stanford Saturday, owing to the slow condition of the track.

"Besides, the good balance of manpower which we were fortunate enough to have," Dorfmeier continued, "we had a lot of coaching help. Football Coach Howard Costello, Joe Greggans, Tom Crane and Murray Shipnuck helped out all season, and turned some promising potential help into actual aid where I counted."

With the NCS contention still ahead Dorfmeier was loath to look to prospects for next season, but he said he had about 11 varsity track team members returning.

Crown at Stake in Bear Tilt

Holding a somewhat tenuous lead in SPAL baseball league play this week, Coach Frank Bettencourt's varsity moundmen were looking apprehensively toward a meeting with Sequoia's second-place Cherokees tomorrow at Flood Park. Game time, 3:15 p.m., may well see the start of a contest which will decide who gets the local pennant.

Bettencourt's charges, of course, had to figure out how to get past Willow Glen's Rams, who they were supposed to meet yesterday in a makeup game. The Rams are always good at butting over the better applecarts.

Most of the apprehension felt about Sequoia was based on two things, says Bettencourt. First, the Cherokees have excellent team hitting. Second, they've got a real peachy hurler by the name of Rudy Steinbeuk.

5-3 RECORD

Between these assets the purple and white got the 5-3 record it was sporting as of early this week.

The Bears took over the top of the standings Friday, when the Sequoians enjoyed enough ill luck to get edged 4-3 by Palo Alto High School's Vikes. The Bears, meanwhile, put together a fourth inning that doomed San Jose High School's Bulldogs to the bottom end of a 4-1 score.

For tomorrow's game, Hal Turner was to get the call to start as twirler and Larry Miller was to stand by in case troubles developed. Ron Harris is to be at the other end of the throws.

GWARTNEY AT 2B

The infield and outfield represents the solid corps of "old dependables" developed during the season.

Run in Fourth Starts Rally

Menlo-Atherton had to come from behind to draw the teeth of the Bulldogs, as visitors from the Garden City squeezed a run across in the top of the fourth to start the parade around the basepaths.

In the bottom of the same stanza Postlewaite singled and went to second on a pitcher's balk; Reed coming to bat, got to second and Postlewaite went to third on an error in the defense.

STEALS HOME

The next run was the work of Bob Wendell who walked, stole second, went to third on an error and stole home.

Miller was pitching and gave up four hits, striking out two and walking five during a full seven innings on the mound.

Classiest batter the locals showed was Walsten, whose two doubles had a lot to do with keeping the Bears in the game.

At Finals:

Bears' Class B Mermen Finish Four Points Behind Leaders

It took the best class B high school swim team between Pacific Grove and the Oregon border to turn back Coach Nick Biondi's lightweight Bears Saturday, as local lightweights and varsity natators closed out their season at North Coast Section Finals in Santa Clara.

The winning lightweights were from the Las Lomas High School in the Diablo range. Coach Biondi's crew came in four points behind the winners after an unlucky start in a relay event which would have given the locals another 14 points.

Compared to the Bear B's, the varsity was hardly in the meet. Only Mike O'Donoghue got to the finals, and he finished fourth in individual medley swimming with a new better-than-PAL record time of 1:39 for 150 yards.

For the B's, Mike Oppenheimer got fourth in the 50-yard freestyle event and Steve Fox splashed to a fourth place in the 100-yard freestyle event. Diver Jack Leahy surprised many by coming in second in the lightweight class, also.

The Bears had a record-breaking :54.9 as opposed to the old record of :55.6 going before being disqualified.

Dick Tuttle, another B, beat the standing NCS record for the 50-yard backstroke event, going the distance in :30.8 and the B freestyle relay team of Fox, Don Sipple, Jack Lorton and Oppenheimer set a :47.0 record in that event, winning going away.

Will Send Pair To Pentathlon

Mike O'Donoghue and Steve Fox, sparkplugs of Menlo-Atherton High School's varsity swim team during the season just past, will represent the gold and maroon Saturday noon at Carlmont High School's first "aqua pentathlon" to get underway at noon.

The contest will draw mermen from throughout the Bay Area and, Coach Nick Biondi avers, it will give an interesting indication of comparative all-'round swimming ability.

Expected to win it, however, is George Harrison, Acalanes High School whiz from Lafayette.

The aqua-pentathlon will be scored like a track decathlon, with a maximum of 1000 points. Each contestant—there are 23—will have to perform five gruelling events.

GIVES THE 'HI' SIGN

TURN ON THE STEAM—The engineer of one of the last Southern Pacific steam locomotives gets the highball sign from Yvonne Tomasena of Menlo Park, heading for the western style spring festival at Serra High School in San Mateo Sunday, May 19. Many peninsula preps will entertain at the day-long fete of games, music and a steak barbecue.

Play Review:

Players Offer Evening of Fun In 'Fifth Season' Production

By MAGGIE MOORE

Menlo Players' Guild has come up again with an evening of fun with their latest production, "The Fifth Season," a farce-comedy by Syliva Regan. The show has been presented for two weekends and will conclude with performances Friday and Saturday night in Burgess Little Theater at Civic Center.

At first glance over the cast, it is remarkable the number of beautiful girls gathered together for this production, together with some clever portrayals of the now familiar types in the world of competitive business success.

This time, the setting was in the garment business—"There are five seasons, spring, summer, fall, winter and (the fifth) SLACK season," we are told.

TWO PARTNERS

We meet partners Johnny Goodwin and Max Pincus who struck out on their own in the cutthroat world of Seventh avenue. Goodwin, who follows the "realistic" plan for success after a struggle with his finer ideals, is played by Lew Karcher and Pincus, who saved Goodwin's skin and the company continuously ,was warmly presented by Edward Soomil.

Prominent in the affairs of the firm are the bookkeeper, Shelley, played by Vera Russell, and the glamorous model, Lorraine ,in the person of Kathleen Neal.

Ed Lea, seen in the last Players' production, "Light Up the Sky," as a bombastic character, surprised the audience as the precious designer, Ferelli, who concerned himself with gaberdine and how a garment would fit over the hips of American women.

From among the numerous bright quips and lines in the show, the audience Friday night, largely composed of members of the Menlo-Atherton Newcomers' theater section, produced the best of the evening.

This being the story of the garment industry, it could be expected that models would parade in various stages of dress and undress as they changed from one style to another so that buyers could choose styles. Not only that, Goodwin, with casual disregard of the usual proprieties, changed suits on stage at least three times. At one point he declared he was going to "take a shower." This was immediately followed with a gasp: "Oh no!" from a feminine member of the audience.

Robert Hirsch as the completely amoral and immensely successful owner of a chain of women's stores, gave humor and credibility to his part. Impossible to place him in the role of villain of the piece, it was fun to see the tables turned on this operator.

SWEET PERSONALITY

Lovely Katherine Greene took the part of Goodwin's wife and Jared Leidigh played his young son on the brink of his own Seventh avenue career. A sweet touching personality was brought into the confusion by Joyce Bryson as Miriam Oppenheim, the refuge girl who took the books over from Shelley and who developed an interesting condition and retired to home and family.

Long-time followers of the Players' Guild have been rewarded with their loyalty to the organization. Not only has the Guild been consistent in its play production efforts, but the technical staff has improved through the years.

Few townsfolk realize that the beautiful curtain and the lights and other stage equipment found in Burgess Little Theater are owned by the Guild and loaned out when needed by other civic groups.

Guild members and friends have been contributing for years to a city fund which they hope will someday redecorate the Little Theater to make it the pleasant setting for continued fine entertainment.

M-A Will Take Part in Music Program Friday

Director Ed Brown of Menlo-Atherton High School will conduct 120 M-A, Sequoia and Carlmont High School orchestra musicians when they perform Morton Gould's "American Salute" tomorrow night. The program will be held in the Carlmont gymnasium.

Narrator Sue Strickland of Menlo-Atherton will tell the heritage of the old south as Robert Smith of Sequoia directs the three orchestras in Grofe's "Mississippi Suite."

Approximately 11 voices of the combined high school choirs will pay tribute to American composers and American folk music when they sing "Live-o-Humble" and "Beautiful Saviour" under the direction of Gerald Einersson.

Menlo-Atherton's Warren Ireland will lead the group in the presentation of "Allelulue" by Randall Thompson.

The festival will close with the combined efforts of orchestras and choirs as they perform Gied R. Youse's stirring "A Salute to America."

Special lighting and staging have been planned and soundproofing of the Carlmont gymnasium has made the accoustics excellent for music production. There will be a small charge to help defray expenses.

Menlo Park Man Writes Original Music for Concert

CLAREMONT, Calif. (Special) —Original music by Stewart Graham, Pomona College senior from Menlo Park, was heard in a concert at the college May 13. He is one of three Pomona students in the composition class of Karl Kohn, assistant professor of music at the college, whose original compositions were performed at the concert.

Included on the program were his Sonatina for Violin and Piano and "God Hath Highly Exalted Him" for men's chorus. Graham conducted his own music.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon W. Graham, 1770 Oakdell Drive, and a 1953 graduate of Menlo-Atherton High School. Graham is majoring in music at Pomona.

Area Dancers To Appear in Pomona Program

Ann Bartells, 1131 Hobart street, and Gretchen Snyder, 4 White Oak court, are among the student dancers and choreographers who will participate in a modern dance concert at Pomona College tomorrow.

The program will be presented in four parts. Dancers will portray jazz interpretations of white, black, yellow and red in "Color Suite." Classified" will dramatize ads read from the newspapers.

"Misirlou" is based on a Greek folk dance, while the concluding number, "Pre-Classical Suite," will feature controlled presentations of mood.

Pomona College is located at Claremont, Calif.

Figurines on Display at SRI

Historical figurines by George S. Stuart are on display during May in Stanford Research Institute's lobby.

Stuart, who lives in Santa Barbara, formerly worked at the Smithsonian Institute, Washington, D. C., where his work required research into American folk habits.

This work later gave rise to a hobby of recreating miniature images of personages significant to their times. Altogether, he has created 80 figures, which he carefully models after examining drawings, medallions, portrait busts and other similar clues.

Pick Life Guards For Burgess Pool

Sam Green and Darla Tupper will serve as senior life guards at Burgess Park pool, when the facility opens for its 1957 season on May 30, it was announced this week by Stan Sexton, city recreation supervisor.

Both have been employed at the municipally owned pool in previous years, Sexton said, and both have recently completed refresher courses in senior swimming and lifesaving.

All members of the summer pool staff—with the exception of the cashiers in the boys' and girls' dressing rooms—will be qualified as expert swimmers, Sexton pointed out.

May Day in Woodside:

Kids Parade from School to Leo's Garage in Festivities

By SHIRLEY EASTMAN

Woodside's third grade Brownies danced around the Maypole, boys, girls, pets and floats paraded down Woodside road from the school to Leo's Garage and back, and it was officially and royally May Day in Woodside last Saturday morning.

Alex MacBride and Vicki Krauss were crowned king and queen of the annual festivities and reigned under cloudy skies until afternoon rains cancelled the scheduled games intended for a finish to the day.

The rains held off long enough for Frances Nagle to win first prize for her pet entry in the parade as "Mary and Her BIG Lamb" (biggest lamb she'd ever seen, said the publicity chairman), and Steven Lubin to win first prize as a pedestrian entry.

Other major awards went to Jeannette Sill and Alex Schilling in the poster contest ;a special award to the Woodside school band, first prize in the Scouting class for Girl Scout Troop 126, and a nod as the "prettiest" entry to the third grade Brownies. Oh, yes, the fathers won the tug-of-war.

Parade judges included Mrs. Ralph King, Edward Norris, Frank Walker and Stuart McPherson. The royal court attendants were Peter Ward, John Flood, Patricia Henney and Jill Woolery. And Mrs. Frank Hooper was general chairman of the shortened but merry May Day.

Shaw Explains Flood Pool Rules

Flood Park pool will be open on weekends and holidays until June 18, according to an announcement by Ralph Shaw, superintendent of the county Recreation Department. After June 18 the pool will be open every day except Monday until Sept. 15.

Hours of the pool after Sept. 15 will be contingent upon the weather.

Swimmers under 12 years of age will be charged 20 cents admission. persons 12-18 will pay 30 cents, while adults will be charged 40 cents.

Towels are 15 cents with a 50-cent deposit, while suits rent for 25 cents with a one dollar deposit.

In addition to recreational swimming, the pool staff will conduct swimming classes for children 7-12 years old. Signups will be held in the spectators area at the pool Saturday, May 18, and Saturday, May 25, from 9 a.m. to noon.

There is no admission charge for the instruction, but participants must purchase 10 swimming tickets.

Rec Department Starts Yugoslav Dance Classes

A new class in Yugoslav folk dancing, under the auspices of the Menlo Park Recreation Department, started last night in Encinal school. Instructor for the group is John Filcich of Oakland.

Filcich, a native of Yugoslavia, directs the production of phonograph records of Yugoslav folk music. During the last year he presented two of the Yugoslav State Folk Ballets in Northern California, and traveled with "Tanec," a dance group from Masedania, during their American tour.

Beginners are welcome in the class, in which simple dances will be emphasized. No partners are needed as most of the dances are done in a line or a circle. Admission is 50 cents per evening. More information may be obtained by phoning DA 6-1032 or EM 6-7572.

Sports Banquet To Be May 28

Tuesday, May 28, has been set as date for the Menlo-Atherton High School Dads' Club's annual spring sports banquet, it was announced this week by Floyd Davidson and Jim Gowdy, officers of the group.

Menlo Park Recorder Athletic Achievement awards in varsity and frosh-soph baseball, varsity, class B and class C track, varsity and class B and C swimming, as well as golf and tennis, will be presented at the affair.

Gowdy said this week that the names of new officers of the club will be announced during the course of the evening.

Program has not yet been announced.

Young Musicians Present Program

The combined choral groups of Menlo-Atherton and Sequoia High Schools appeared as guests of the California Youth Symphony. The program was held at the local high school.

The orchestra presented Beethoven's "Overture to Edgmont" and Hadyn's "Symphony No. 102."

Presentation of "Battle Hymn of the Republic" began the choral group program. They also sang "Black Is the Color of My True Love's Hair," "New Ashmolean Band," "Go Down Moses," and "Alice in Wonderland."

The concert marked the conclusion of five years for the Youth Symphony. The young group of musicians under Conductor Aaren Sten spend every Saturday morning preparing for three concerts a year—in the Fall, Winter and Spring.

Movie Makers to Meet on Monday

A discussion on "Exposure and Lighting," second in a series on how to make movies, will be conducted by the Palo Alto movie makers when they meet Monday at 8 p.m. in South Palo Alto.

Gordon Robertson of the Movie Crafters Club in Oakland and a past president of the Northern California Council of Amateur Movie Clubs, will present films and discussion on time lapse cinematography.

Vice president of the group is Bill Merkel of 1820 White Oak drive, Menlo Park. Further information concerning the group may be obtained by contacting him at DA 5-2095.

The meeting place is the Little League Ball Park clubhouse, on Middlefield road, just south of East Meadow in South Palo Alto.

THE MEN'S GLEE CLUB of Stanford University will present a spring concert Sunday at 4 p.m. in Cubberley Auditorium. They are under the direction of Ivan Rasmussen.

CALYPSO SERENADERS audition for Peninsula School's annual fun fair to be held Sunday, May 19, on the school grounds. The boys will add to fair gaiety and color as strolling troubadors. From left to right: John Dawson of Los Altos, John Van Sciver of Woodside, John Schneider of Palo Alto.

As the Sports Staff Sees It

Following Safe Water Practices Will Assure Swimmers a Fun-Filled Summer

IT'S GETTING TO BE THAT SEASON OF THE YEAR again and, as everybody knows, the area's public and private swimming pools are in the process of opening.

Flood Park has scheduled some open days for its tank, and Burgess park pool will open May 30. Menlo-Atherton High School's heated pool has been in use all year, by students at the high school and those taking classes in various phases of natation.

★ ★ ★ ★

THERE ARE ONLY A COUPLE OF THINGS that limit swimming.

One is cold weather. It's assumed by us Bay Area sybarites that the weather is just about always warm enough for swimming, though, so this won't be a consideration.

Another is the school season. Burgess park, for instance, opens its pool late in the spring, so city recreation staffers won't have to spend all their time explaining to potential hookey-players why they should be in school instead of in the water.

★ ★ ★ ★

It's easier to get competent life guards and pool attendants during the summer, and adequate provisions for safety are a major consideration in the case of swimming pools.

And meanwhile, programs conducted by the South San Mateo county chapter of the American Red Cross are designed to minimize the oft-overlooked but very real dangers swimmers can encounter if they don't know what they're doing.

★ ★ ★ ★

LAST WEEK, FOR INSTANCE, area men and women who are going to be pool attendants in this area during the coming months sojourned to the Red Cross' chapter house for three, three-hour sessions at which they reviewed their specialized knowledge; late last month, the Red Cross unit also sponsored a water safety aide course, a water safety instructors' course, and a small craft safety course for boat owners.

★ ★ ★ ★

THE INSTRUCTORS' COURSES, naturally, are designed to assure the maximum of safety at public pools, where large numbers of people are apt to congregate. The private pool owner isn't forgotten, however, and the Red Cross unit here plans to put on a water safety demonstration for owners of private pools later in June.

★ ★ ★ ★

ALL THIS CLASSWORK is aimed at a couple of things:

In the first place, it's aimed at making sure all swimmers enjoy good, safe fun. Not every paddler can be convinced, for all time, that he shouldn't go beyond his depth, swim immediately after eating a heavy meal, or hold his buddy's head under water for five minutes. Somebody has to watch to make sure nothing goes amiss, for the same reason that a baseball game has to have an umpire in spite of the fact that all of the players know the rules: It's more fun if done properly.

A second consideration is the moral one. It does no good for the conscience of any public or private pool owner to learn that, through his negligence or lack of training, his favorite water hole has become the scene of an accident—possibly a fatal one. This area's pools have been singularly fortunate in this regard, with no fatalities in recent years, however.

The third consideration is the legal one. A public or private owner can find himself the defendant in a pretty substantial lawsuit, if it can be shown that his negligence contributed to an accident.

★ ★ ★ ★

THE AVERAGE SWIMMER—particularly the younger average swimmer—isn't apt to give too much thought to all the considerations.

Sometimes, he even considers that first beginners' class a sort of a waste of time, if he can "dog paddle" and enjoys the water.

But somebody has to think about it.

Without an adequate water safety program, the aquatic sports could never enjoy the popularity they do in this area today. They'd be considered too risky.

Diane Ackerman To Be in Play

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene (Special)—Diane Ackerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice T. Ackerman, 1037 Del Monte avenue, has been chosen to play the Red Queen in the University Theater production of "Alice in Wonderland," the spring musical UT production this year.

From Atherton in the play cast is Linda Gaugler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Gaugler, 34 Isabella avenue. Miss Gaugler is a freshman in pre-med.

Miss Ackerman, a freshman in speech and drama, played the lead in three high school plays, directed the play "Cheaper by the Dozen," and won the best actress award. On campus she has held only one minor part.

Down to Earth:

Terry Lee Enters Plea for More Funds for School Landscaping

By TERRY LEE

Every person in this community should be congratulated because there isn't a yard that hasn't been landscaped, lovingly tended and fussed over with extra flowers.

It is a treat to drive down any street and study the interesting combinations, the new roses, the different edgings, the special displays of a fruit tree, rhododendron, rock garden. A tour through this section is equal to any flower show.

I have only one question to ask these gardeners, so proud of ownership and sensitive to beauty. Did any of them go to the school board budget meeting last week and realize that this community cares little about what their largest public buildings look like? We are able to spend 10 per cent of the cost of our house on beautifying and making useful the land around it. But this great thing we do as an individual we seem unable to do as a community.

TIGHT BUDGETS

Our schools receive the minimum of site development because the budgets are so tight there isn't money left for a few trees and shrubs to delight the children who are ther eall day. The land is graded so water won't back into the classrooms, there is blacktop to provide a dry place to play, and fences for safety.

Whatever else exists has been through the kindness of the PTA and the intelligent city park program. This program has been responsible for the large turfed areas at the schools, for the playgrounds which are used as parks after school hours, and the city recreation program is carried out here. With land so expensive, we are lucky to have these park areas, and we will never be able to replace them if we give them up.

Even with this development, there is not an inch of extra space and most areas call for quadruple use. There is no room for tennis courts because they take up a lot space and only a few children can be using that space at one time.

HIGH INCOME

If this community didn't care about appearances and was a very poor one I could understand the lack of parks and development of school areas. But the per capita income of this county is the highest of any in California, and an extraordinary number of our residents have college degrees.

I wish every citizen would do some heavy thinking about making schols adequate and useful and even a bit attractive for the 2300 children who use them. And if children and education and beauty are not a part of your life, then consider the situation just from the money you have invested in your property. Good schools make a good community.

GARDEN CALENDAR WEEK OF MAY 16

About now the foliage on spring bulbs has withered and you can clean it up, if a gentle pull will loosen it from the ground. If still green, tie the leaf stalks together in a knot close to the ground. Sprinkle bonemeal over the surface and water in.

Noree Cole Is Wed:

Home Reception After Rites

Some 400 guests attended the Saturday wedding of Lenore (Noree) Cole and William (Bill) Elmer Brown at the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church and went on to the reception at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Roy B. Robinette and Mr. Robinette in Atherton.

The vows were solemnized at 2 o'clock at the Presbtyerian Church which had been decorated in delicate pink stock and peonies with tulle bows marking the pews. The Rev. Don Emerson Hall officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Escorted to the altar by Mr. Robinette, Noree chose a gown of white tulle embroidered with white Swiss lace roses on the bodice and a bouffant skirt of white pleated tulle. Her contoured veil was held by a cap of embroidered lace and roses and she carried an arrangement of white elf roses and lilies of the valley. Noree completed her wedding ensemble with white kid gloves edged in seed pearls.

Six attendants preceded the bride to the altar. They were frocked in ballerina length crystalette with a high rolled neckline going to a V in the back and accented with a bow. Their shoes and bandeaux matched the color of their dresses and each carried red garnet roses.

The feminine attendants were Sally Kuechler, as maid of honor, who will become Mrs. Martin Warren Debenham on May 25, and bridesmaids Carole Lazzareschi, who will become Mrs. David Diestel on July 6, Mrs. Creswell Cole Jr. of Oakland, Noree's sister-in-law, Cynthia Kaiser, Lynn Armstrong and Jane Stevenson. The latter is formerly of Atherton and came here from New York to be in the wedding party.

TWIN BROTHER

Charles Brown, twin brother of the benedict, stood as best man and ushers were two other brothers, Theodore Brown Jr. and David Brown, and also Creswell Cole, Robert Smith, John Paciulli and Bryant Smith, the latter three of Palo Alto and Alpha Kappa aLmbda fraternity brothers of the benedict.

The Robinette home and gardens were the locale for the reception where Paul Scarlett Roses on the back fence accented the outdoor setting. Blossoms were also set on pink covered tables on the terrace where music played for dancing. Mrs. Robinette greeted guests in an almond green chiffon dress with matching shoes and a rose leaf headpiece and a corsage of blue-pink cimbidiums on her handbag. Mrs. Theodore G. Brown, mother of the benedict, chose a smoke grey chiffon with a pink chiffon hat and mauve cimbidium orchid corsage.

DEPARTURE

As the young couple departed on an undisclosed honeymoon trip, the new Mrs. Brown was wearing a navy blue worsted suit with navy and white accessories.

Noree was graduated from Castilleja and attended Mount Holyoake College in Massachusetts and the College of San Mateo. She is the daughter of the late Creswell Chapin Cole of San Francisco. Her grandparents are Mrs. Sylvan Selig and the late Mr. Selig and the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Cole.

Bill, whose parents also reside in Atherton, was graduated from Menlo School, Stanford and the Stanford Graduate School of Engineering. His grandparents are Mrs. William C. Hagan and the late Mr. Hagan and the late Mr. and Mrs. Elmer C. Brown.

Fashions, Fun, Frolics . . . and Mansfield:

Annual PV's Party on Tap This Saturday

So many highlights for this Saturday's BIG party, it's hard to list which "first" first. But for sure, there IS a party on in the form of "Fun Fantasy," the annual gala staged by the Peninsula Volunteers Inc. which this year is celebrating its 10th anniversary.

It's all for charity projects of the PV's . . . namely their Little House establishment in Menlo Park for the senior citizens 50 years of age and over. The party will be held on the grounds and in the clubhouse of the Menlo Circus Club in Atherton.

The gates will open at 12 noon and promptly at 1 o'clock, there will be a children's fashion show emceed by the '49ers coach Frank Albert (who will promptly take off at 2 p.m. with his team for spring training). At 2 o'clock, TV's King Norman Show will be given and highlighting this portion of the program will be the appearance of young Tim Hovey, Hollywood movie star who is claimed by Menlo Park as its very own. Tim is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Hovey of Hermosa way.

FASHION SHOW

Early evening arrivals will enjoy a cocktail hour and at 6 p.m. will see a fabulous fashion show with Paul Speegle of Menlo Park, witty columnist for a San Francisco newspaper, doing the honors of emcee who will undoubtedly ballyhoo the fashions (judging from last year's performance) in record breaking witticisms.

Mrs. John F. Miller of Atherton is chairman of the fashion show and has announced the following list of mannequins who will promenade about the pool . . . Mrs. Melvin D. Savage Jr., Mrs. Kenneth Walker, Mrs. Roger Anderson, Mrs. Gail Rathbun, Mrs. Miller, Mrs. George Stewart, Mrs. William Squires, Mrs. Edward Martin, Mrs. E. C. Mower, Mrs. Gilbert Freeman, Mrs. Russell Conn, Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. Ellis Gates and Mrs. William Greenbach.

Mrs. Edward Scripps, Mrs. Jeremy Spielman, Mrs. Russell Glenn, Mrs. Paul A. McCauley Robinson, Mrs. Edson Piers, Mrs. Andre Dubbs, Mrs. John D. Whelan, Miss Cynthia Kaiser and Miss Sally Kuechler.

Many of the models will finish the show and directly change to costumes for the frolics which will be presented at 8:30 p.m. and 10 p.m.

And after the fashion show too, party-goers may partake of dinner fare.

GUEST STARS

The two performances of the frolics, given by the PV's and their husbands and the four guest stars . . . Jayne Mansfield, Richard Egan, Lori Nelson and Erin O'Brien . . . will run approximately 45 minutes each performance. Mrs. Gordon Dennis is talent director for the evening show, "Reflections of Broadway."

Atherton Lass Marries:

Elaine Nearon is Recent Bride

Their first home will be established in the Los Angeles area by Mr. and Mrs. James Doyas who were married Saturday, May 4, at St. Mary Magdalen Church in Berkeley.

The bride is the former Elaine Ruth Nearon, daughter of the Arthur D. Nearons of Atherton and the benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard A. Doyas of Oakland.

Arrangements of white stock, gladioli and bouvardia were used as the decor in the church and also at the reception.

Escorted to the altar by her father, Elaine chose a chapel length gown of Chantilly lace fashioned with a sweetheart neckline with pearl and mother of pearl sequin inset and short sleeves. She wore elbow length gloveiets and her veil was held by a half Juliet cap with the pearl detail of her dress repeated in the trim.

She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, lily of the valley and bouvardia in a cascade arrangement.

FIVE ATTEND

Five attendants preceded the bride. They were Barbara Nearon, her sister, who attends the College of the Pacific, who was the maid of honor, and four University of California classmates, Dolores Doyas, the benedict's sister, Charlotte Pagani, and Theta Upsilon sorority sisters Barbara Agnew and Sandralu Johnson, all of whom were the bridesmaids.

They were dressed in identical frocks of white nylon organza with embossed blue flowers on the full skirts. Each wore a blue cumberbund at the waist and also matching blue shoes. Their bouquets were cascade arrangements of pink baby roses, white and pink bouvardia and tied with blue ribbon to match the dress cumberbund.

BEST MAN

Standing with Dick as best man was Bary Schlichter, of Oakland and a student at the California Polytechnic Institute, and ushers were U. C. students Howard Boerlin, Tony Jarrett, Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity brothers of the benedict, Bart Ott and Ron Zeiser.

The Rev. G. H. Anderson officiated at the wedding.

The Twentieth Century Club in Berkeley was the setting for the reception. Mrs. Nearon received wearing a pink and white sheath and Mrs. Doyas chose a blue peau de soie sheath.

Just before changing into her going-away ensemble, Elaine tossed her bouquet which was caught by her sister, Barbara. For traveling, the new Mrs. Doyas chose a black shantung sheath with matching bolero jacket and a wide-brimmed black hat. Both her dress and hat had red and white polka dot bow accents. They are honeymooning at an undisclosed destination in the southwest desert area.

Elaine was a member of the first graduating class at Menlo-Atherton High School in 1952. She has received her bachelor of sciences and her master degrees in Business Administration. She was a member of Prytanean, Phi Chi Theta and Beta Gamma Sigma, honor societies, and a past president of Utrimque, a women's social organization.

In addition to her sister, Barbara, she has a brother, David Nearon, a student at Menlo-Atherton.

Dick attended Castlemont High School and was graduated from Cal in Engineering Physics and is currently associated with the Atomics International at Canoga Park in southern California.

W. Webb, Panhellenic representative; Mrs. Don Grutzmacher, recommendations, all of Palo Alto, and Mrs. Alison Rouse, Redwood City, ways and means.

Plans were also made for the Wine Tasting Scholarship benefit party set for June 9.

'Absent' Dance Directors Presented at Spring Event

By PROXY

The final party of the season, and a formal one, too, was staged recently by the Starlighters (strictly for fun dance group) at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo and included plans to pay special honors to the new directors for the coming season. What with traveling and other plans, only one couple of the new directors attended the gala party . . . they were the Dale Smiths of Palo Alto, new secretaries, who "graciously acknowledged" the appointments of their absent co-officers.

Ped and George Ford of Menlo Park are the new chairmen, but Ped was in the East and so the Fords missed the party . . . the Max Landpheres of Atherton are the new membership chairmen but are currently traveling in Europe . . . and the Fredericks Wests of Westridge, new treasurers, had a pre-engagement in San Francisco and so, too, missed the evening's festivities.

The party was given before the recent rains . . . and it was a balmy evening when the Starlighters began their final gaiety of the season. First off was an al fresco cocktail party in the patio and garden of the home of Lenore and Henry Knutzen in Atherton . . . and while the new directors were noticeably absent, past chairmen were there giving full support for present and future parties: Libby and Bud Nye of Menlo Park, first chairmen of the group, Jane and Ben Wilson, second chairmen, and the retiring chairmen, Zora and Duane Lyle, both couples of Palo Alto.

Receiving plaudits for a wonderfully planned evening were Bea and Bob Sheffield of Atherton who steered the committee for the recent affair and who were assisted by Margaret and Don Newport, Billie and Denny Nelson, of Menlo Park, and Toni and Sophia Thompson of Atherton.

* * *

"This is for the Birds" party was highlighted with birds of all descriptions in the decor at the Saturday night formal dinner-dance given by the Woodside-Atherton Junior Auxiliary to the Stanford Convalescent Home at the Villa Hotel. It was especially planned to welcome the new provisional members and their husbands. Cocktails and dinner were in the Garden Room and the party-goers danced to the music of Al Wallace's orchestra.

Among those there . . . Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Armstrong, Muriel chairman this year of the Auxiliary and wearing a floral print . . . the Joseph Cartys, she in tucked pink linen . . . Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, she was chairman of the Auxiliary last year and chose for the party a stunning black taffeta gown.

Already talking about plans for the Tally Ho party on September 14 at the Menlo Circus Club was Mrs. John Steinhart who will be party chairman this year . . . Jean and John Wickett, she in a red chiffon, enjoying a samba.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bareilles of Menlo Park celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on May 1.

They have been residents of Palo Alto and Menlo Park for a great many years. They both came from pioneer families and both were born and raised on the west side of the San Joaquin Valley.

AAUW to Hear Talk By Mayor Lawson

The general membership luncheon meeting of the League of Women Voters of Menlo Park will be held at the home of Mrs. Lester Kornblith, 44 Winchester drive, Atherton, at 12 noon, next Wednesday, at which time Mayor William R. Lawson of Menlo Park will speak on the subject of "Menlo Park Today."

Mayor Lawson, a graduate of the University of California and now actively engaged in business as a building contractor in Menlo Park, served on the Menlo Park City Council for five years before assuming his present office.

His topic is timely as it relates to allied current agenda items selected for study on "adequate planning for the bay area urbanized region" and "local recreational facilities especially at the teenage level," and of particular interest to League members since an important activity of the Menlo Park League of Women Voters was the publishing of a handbook for citizens—"This is Menlo Park" —produced after a year's research with the help of the local Council and Chamber of Commerce.

Arrangements for the luncheon are being handled by Mrs. John R. Johnson assisted by Mrs. Karl Peterson. Reservations at $1.25 may be made by calling Mrs. Sherman H. Clark, DA 5-2590.

CHI OMEGA

Chi Omega Peninsula Alumnae will hold a dessert meeting next Tuesday, at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Fielding McDearmon, 323 Concord, Menlo Park. For reservations, please call Mrs. Byrne Bernhard, DA 2-0206.

Musicale Set For May 25 at Allied Arts

The second Breakfast-Musicale will be presented Saturday, May 25, at the Allied Arts Guild Tea Room by the Palo Alto Alumnae Chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon to benefit the group's scholarship awards given to outstanding music majors at Stanford University.

Assisting in making plans for the event are Mrs. C. W. Woodin newly elected president, and Mrs. R. M. True, both of Menlo Park.

This year's winner of the $200 award is Natalie Jenne, pianist currently working toward her masters' degree. Through the generosity of a friend of the local chapter of Mu Phi Epsilon and Stanford University, additional awards of $100 each will go to Helen Jensen, pianist, and Elizabeth Van Vorst, violinist. These young artists will be presented at the Breakfast-Musicale along with Mel Carey, pianist and composer and a winner of last year's awards. Miss Van Vorst will be accompanied by Janice Merwin.

Representing the Palo Alto Chapter as featured soloist will be Ramona Rockway Grim, mezzo-soprano, with Agnes Helgesson at the piano.

During the breakfast hour there will be light music by the concert accordionist, La Rene Cracraft of San Francisco State College, and the Mu Phi Epsilon Trio composed of Helen Harper Caldwell, violinist, Maurine Stowe, cellist, and Marjorie Rawlins, pianist.

Custom-designed jewelry created by Amelia Tingler will be on display and profits from all sales will go to the scholarship fund.

Mrs. Caldwell, retiring chapter president, will present the scholarship winners and guests.

Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Kenneth Peters, DA 5-3718, by May 22 .

M-A Students Awarded Funds For College

The Peninsula Volunteers Inc. four-year grant for college studies has been awarded to Pat Vartanian, student at Menlo-Atherton High School, who will attend either San Jose State or the University of California.

The Jim Schulte Scholarship, established in memory of an M-A student who lost his life in an accident before graduation, has been awarded to Gerald Berger. The Peninsula Volunteers have diverted money from their cancer fund for this special award, which will be made this year only.

Tony Barrientos and Walter Janzen are currently finalists in the General Motors Scholarship competition, based on scholastic aptitude and college board test scores.

Betty Cawthorn has a music scholarship to study the oboe at a Santa Barbara summer session. Keith Long has been awarded the Atkinson Foundation Scholarship, which he will use at Oregon State.

All are senior students at Menlo-Atherton.

Menlo Park Home Scene Of Junior League Meet

Mrs. Marron Kendrick of Menlo Park was hostess yesterday to members of the Palo Alto Unit of the Junior League of San Francisco.

Mrs. Austin Morris, president of the Junior League of San Francisco, and Mrs. William F. Luttgens, vice president of communitl welfare, reported on the recent conference meetings in Coronado.

Mrs. John Miller of Atherton, hospitality chairman, was in charge of the luncheon and swimming arrangements.

Make-It-Yourself Style Show Tomorrow Evening

Several Menlo Park residents will be taking part in the "Make-It-Yourself" fashion show tomorrow at 8 o'clock at the event sponsored by the Southern Peninsula Inter-City Council of Beta Sigma Phi at L'Omelette's Restaurant.

Members will model their fashion ensembles after which dessert and coffee will be served.

Among those making plans for the evening are Eleanor Larson of Menlo Park. Young moppets who will be modeling are Barbara and Kathy Deming who will model frocks made by their mother, Mrs. Frank Deming, and Mrs. Carlos Merrick, all of Menlo Park.

At Home in Southern California:

Sherm McClellan Claims Bride

Now residing in Claremont where the benedict is continuing his studies at Claremont Men's College are Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Lane McClellan (Marian Borton Cleminshaw) who were married April 6 at the Silverlake Community Presbyterian Church in Los Angeles.

"Sherm" as the bridegroom is known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. McClellan of Menlo Park. Marian is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Cleminshaw of Hollywood. The young couple announced their engagement at a family dinner in the southland last Thanksgiving.

Escorted to the altar by her father, who is associate director of Griffith Observatory, Marian chose a floor length gown of white lace and tulle. Her veil was held by a halo of orange blossoms which had been loaned to her by her aunt, Mrs. Charles Cleminshaw. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley and white orchids.

SISTER ATTENDS

Marian's sister, Carole Cleminshaw, was her maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Marjorie Newhouse, Mrs. Galen Young and Mrs. Frederick Hoeffer. All were gowned in frocks of turquoise peau de soie.

Best man duties were assumed by Donald Lane and some 300 guests were ushered to their places by Richard Johnson, Lee McAvoy, Harold Almond and Galen Young. The Rev. David C. Jacobsen, formerly of Palo Alto, officiated at the ceremony.

Music at the ceremony included "The Wedding Benediction."

Following the vow exchange, a reception was held in the church hall. Mrs. Cleminshaw chose for her daughter's wedding a beige lace over cocoa with matching accessories and Mrs. McClellan chose a frock of old rose lace over pink with white accessories.

During the reception, the young couple observed an old ceremony of drinking from the same cup which was a Swedish silver bell in the form of a lady and loaned to them by Miss Newhouse, one of the bridesmaids.

GOING-AWAY

For her going-away, the new Mrs. McClellan chose a green print over which she wore a matching green duster. White accessories completed her ensemble. The couple honeymooned at Ojai Valley, near Santa Barbara.

Marian attended high school in Hollywood and was graduated from Pomona College last June. She majored in mathematics and was elected to Kappa Mu Epsilon national mathematics society. While on the Pomona campus, she was vice president of the Mudd-Blaisdell dormitories and was also a member of the judiciary council. Until her marriage, she worked at the California Institute of Technology Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena.

Sherm was graduated from Menlo-Atherton High School and was active in the Menlo Park Presbyterian Church and was president of the church choir. He attended Claremont Men's College for two years, with a business administration major, before going into the army. He was stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash. Before going into the service, he was a representative to the model UN convention at UCLA and a member of the rally committee during his first two years at Claremont.

'Copter Slated To Appear at Stratos-Fair

A real helicopter will be featured at the Willow "Stratos-Fair" Saturday, May 25, from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. at Willow School here.

The craft will land at 11 a.m. on the schoolground and will take off at 3:30 p.m. Harold Bouton of Hiller Helicopters Inc. will fly the "copter" and stand by during the day.

Posters done by the fourth and fifth grades have been judged and the three winning students will receive awards.

A display room will include weather maps, radio teletype, space ships and other jet-age gear.

Booths will feature books, toys, white elephants, decorated hats, aprons, food, doll clothes and other concessions.

The public is invited to attend.

Insurance Women Set June Meeting Date

The newly organized Peninsula Association of Insurance Women which includes women from South San Francisco to San Jose, will meet on Wednesday, June 5, at 6:30 p.m. at the Woodside Pioneer Inn.

The speaker will be Mrs. Louise Drury of Slenderella who will speak on "Fashion and Figures." Reservations may be made by calling the president, Velda Gale, DA 5-0074, or Charlotte Mayer, Menlo Park, DA 5-4469.

Any woman connected with the insurance business and interested in joining the club is invited to contact the president.

County Chiropractic Groups Meets May 21

The San Mateo County Chiropractic Association and Auxiliary will meet at the Benjamin Franklin Hotel in San Mateo on Tuesday, May 21, when Dr. James Alberts of San Mateo will present a film on polio treatment under chiropractic care.

Later in the evening, the Auxiliary will go to the home of Mrs. Alberts for a business meeting.

Those planning to attend the Association and Auxiliary meeting are Dr. and Mrs. L. Howard Fenton and Dr. and Mrs. Harold D. Atkinson, all of Menlo Park.

Foursome Attend SM Welfare Meeting

Four area women recently attended a San Mateo meeting of the County Citizens' Advisory Committee on Child Welfare, as Patrick R. Maloney took over the chairmanship of that group.

The four were Mrs. William R. Lawson, Mrs. Henry Leicester and Mrs. Ralph R. Johnson of Menlo Park and Mrs. Donald H. Seizas, of Woodside.

GOP Style Show Ticket Committee Is Named

Mrs. Dallas Conine of Woodside and Mrs. Henry Pahland of Atherton are handling local ticket sales for the "G.O.P.—Glamor on Parade" fashion show to be staged May 28 by the San Mateo County Federation of Republican Women at the Garden Cafe in Burlingame.

The proceeds from the event will be used to further the work of the Stanford Convalescent Home Auxiliary which operates the Garden Cafe, and the Federation of Republican Women.

GOP Women Meet Wednesday

Hats! All sizes and shapes, the oldest, the most original, the prettiest, and the funniest. All will be featured at the last luncheon meeting of the year of the South San Mateo County Council of Republican Women to be held next Wednesday at 12 noon in the gardens of the president, Mrs. Albert A. Hedge of 281 Arlington way, Menlo Park.

In charge of the afternoon event will be Mrs. W. R. Robinson Jr., Mrs. N. B. Miller and Mrs. B. E. Hayden.

Facilities for bridge and canasta will be available for those desiring to play, and a silent auction arranged by Mrs. W. B. Russell and Mrs. Arno Singhoff will entertain the non-players.

There will be a door prize as well as prizes for the outstanding hats. Judges for the hat event will be Mrs. T. D. Blake, Mrs. Harry Lawrence and Mrs. A. B. Blakely.

Heading the hostess committee will be Mrs. H. E. Hallett, assisted by Mrs. H. E. Williams, Mrs. Henry Mayfarth, Mrs. Milton V. Veldee and Mrs. Henry Moe.

Court of Awards:

Troops' Ceremonies at Hillview School

Troops 45, 38, 347, 241, 282, 256, eighth grade troops 141 and 43, and Mariner Troop 9, participated in a Court of Awards in the multipurpose room at Hillview School this Tuesday.

The fifth grade color guard posted the colors and fifth grade Troops 45 and 38 led the audience in the Pledge of Allegiance and "America the Beautiful." Mariner Scouts Jaquie von Hein, Sandi Hammerman, Joanne Leenerts, Lynne Holleuffer and Jill Harker spoke on advanced Scouting and the various ranks and awards.

Miss Hallman, executive, Sequoia Area Girl Scout Council, and Mrs. S. Brown, president, Sequoia Area Girl Scout Council, were introduced. Mrs. Brown gave a talk and then presented curved bar awards to the following girls: Patricia Erickson, Phyllis Geasland, Margaret Hareid, Maureen Mueller, Mary Ott, Gail Raffel, Joyce Rich and Susan Smith.

Troops 282, 347, 241 and 256 presented skits. The Mariner Scouts presented the badges and awards other than curved bar. The eighth grade and Mariner Scouts sang "Roundup" and "Cloudships" and the eighth grade troops 141 and 43 did Retreat

THE 200 BLOCK of Oakhurst place in Menlo Park is the scene of considerable commotion these days, what with the births of two big boys born within 12 hours of one another. The first arrival, Michael Joseph Wiechers, born to the Lawrence Wiechers, 236 Oakhurst place, Menlo Park, on April 9, weighing an even 10 pounds. The Wiechers' baby is the fourth addition to the family, and was greeted at home by Jimmy, 12, Teresa, 6, and Judy, 4. The baby has been seen by grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Meehan of Palo Alto, and Mrs. B. Wiechers of San Francisco.

Exactly 12 hours later, Mrs. Wiechers' neighbor, Mrs. Robert Cleese, 247 Oakhurst place, Menlo Park, gave birth to a son weighing 9 pounds, 14 ounces. James Daniel, born April 10, is the first child for the Cleeses. The baby has been admired by grandparents Mr. and Mrs. John Cleese of Menlo Park, Mr. and Mrs. Jack R. Brenan of Vista, Calif., and his great-grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George F. Cleese Sr., of Menlo Park.

WILLIAM KENNETH MENDENHALL III is the first child for the William Mendenhalls, 1253 Willow road, Menlo Park. The little man arrived April 15 weighing an even 7 pounds. The baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall Jr. of Kingston, N. J., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Suchy of Montclair, N.J.

FIRST BABY for the Blake Bensons, 315 Pope street, Menlo Park, is Victoria Marie, born April 17, weighing 5 pounds, 8 ounces. The baby's grandparents are Mrs. Edith Benson of Menlo Park and Ralph Bacelli of East Palo Alto.

* * *

FIRST SON for the William Farrars, 1295 Bay Laurel drive, Menlo Park, is William Rodgers Jr., born April 17, weighing 8 pounds, 13 ounces. The baby's sisters are Caroline, 5, and Michele, 3. Grandparents of the children are Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Farrar of Sacramento.

Tickets may be purchased at the door and refreshments will be served.

Fashion Carousel:

'Wash and Wear' Trend Seen in Modern Living

By EVELYN RADCLIFFE

Modern living is making the life of a bachelor so self-sufficient he may never feel he needs a wife.

With frozen dinners now on the market, he doesn't need her for a cook; and soon he won't need anyone to do his laundry because the world of "drip dry" has reached out its loving arms and taken him in. In fact, it has even gone a step further for men than for us, and now calls itself "wash and wear," which means that in many cases, shirts, suits and slacks can be machine washed and machine dried, and come out ready to wear!

On guard, girls—let's don't let this go to far!

Our displacement notwithstanding, we do have to admit the beauty of the idea. These "wash and wears" are not the usual seersuckers, but real suit-looking suits, in cotton coverts, and dacron and cotton mixtures that look like wool.

There is a decided trend toward the "horsey" look in men's sport jackets this season. Inspired and influenced by "the hunt" they have the characteristic country cut, flared at the bottom, slanted flap pockets, and the long center vent which can be buttoned down to shorten the opening. These are generally in loud checks or red plaids.

Also in the sport jacket section comes a re-run of the blazer. This is no doubt due to the success of the Broadway musical "Happy Hunting" whose star, clothes horse Fernando Lamas wears 10 fascinating new costumes, among them an electric blue blazer with brass buttons.

The influence of Broadway on women's clothing has been felt for a long time, but to have a musical set the trend in men's clothing is something new.

In private life Fernando Lamas loves clothes, and has been described as a "master of clothesmanship." He has had many of his stage fashions copied for himself, and manufacturers are adapting others for production.

These Lamas-inspired blazers, and sport jackets in general will top white slacks at least in some parts of the country. The new washable fabrics have brought about this understandable return of white slacks for men this year.

More good news for bachelors, and good in more ways than weather, is the short sleeved business shirt. This eliminates the most tedious part of ironing a man's shirt, so it may be good news for many wives, too, if widely accepted. Our wonderful Peninsula climate may take some of the heat off this otherwise hot idea.

In New York, it's big news, and answering the cry of "too informal" one fashion authority decreed, "short sleeves do not make a sport shirt." Bosses may frown on this idea, but we are in favor of it. It's cool, man, COOL!

Everywhere, in every phase of men's wear things are more colorful . . . from Fernando Lamas' red silk toreador jacket, the bright madras plaids and calypso colors in sports wear, the two toned shirts (white with colored collar and cuffs) down to the bright reds and russets of shoes.

So cheer up, girls, this is a good sign, for v-e-r-y few men have good enough color sense to cope with all the possible combinations. We feel that they will be needing us around MORE as the future gets brighter, sartorially speaking.

SU Mothers' Club to Hear Foreign Students

Werner Warmbrunn, foreign student advisor at Stanford University, and three students from other lands will present the final program of the season for the Mother's Club of Stanford next Tuesday at 2 o'clock.

The meeting will be held in one of the new wings at Stern Hall. Following the program, there will be a social hour with Mrs. Perry H. Vartanian as tea chairman assisted by members of the Newcomers section.

There will be a no-host luncheon in the Stanford Union at 12 noon. Reservations may be made with Mrs. John Ball, DA 2-0039 or Mrs. Frank Richey, DA 2-4861.

Shopping in Menlo

with MERRIE PARKER

Yum yum te-dum . . . you should see the wonderful goodies on the shelves at the Menlo Square Cake Box . . . and it's no secret that the strawberry season is here! Angel food cake is always in season . . . and so, Menlo Square Cake Box has combined the cake with strawberries and a delight you've never tasted before. Strawberries in the cake and in the icing. We might add that it would be an awfully good idea to pick up your phone and place your order early . . . and you may have a whipped cream topping rather than icing, if you prefer. And for another day, how does "Apple Blossom" pie sound to you? It's a new combination of apple and lemon pie mixed which you may serve "as is" or with ice cream or whipped cream. Two wonderful treats . . . for your family and for your guests.

Not too many weeks remaining in the school year . . . and then you'll have little (and big) inquiries . . . "Mom, what can I do?" Reading is a wonderful and educational activity for youngsters and you'll find the book shelves and tables at Browning's Ltd. literally (and literaturely) loaded with top reading material. Browsing through the shop, we saw several books for your "list" . . . there's "Madeline and the Bad Hat" by Ludwig Bemelman filled with wonderful drawings for the 5 to 8 year age group and priced at $3.50 . . . "The Wonderful World of the Sea," by James Fisher, which is a very fine science study for the 8 to 12-year-old group . . . and "Miracles on Maple Hill" by Virginia Sorenson which by the way, won the Newberry award for outstanding literature for children. It's the story of a down east farm and is priced at $2.95. Another illustrated book is "The Tree is Nice" by Janice May Udry, for the 3 to 6-year-old filled with many cartoons and priced at $2.50. All wonderful for your child's library collection.

Something new has been added in the way of pinking shears . . . manufactured by Weiss, these shears "pink round" and are called "Skalloping" shears. You'll find them at The Stitching Post and priced at $7.50 a pair. And you'll find, too, that you'll have lots of use for them . . . for ruffles on petticoats, finishing party aprons, scalloping skirts for a dressing table . . . and all types of accessories and trim for house and dress.

* * *

You can be a stamp collector or not and you'll still find "very interesting" the new book which is just "hot off the presses" titled "A Catalog of Modern World Coins" with coins listed from all centuries. The Stamp Shack has this "first" edition for $4 . . . wonderful as a reference book . . . it converts foreign money . . . tells about the monetary system and country originating the coins. This wonderful book gives information on all world coins, both gold and silver, and an interesting section is on the Chinese dynasties with their various Chinese characters translated into English. And too, the book lists coins most likely to be obtainable by the coin collectors. It's a "must" for the collector . . . and a wonderful addition to any family's library. When you go into the Stamp Shack, ask to see their new coin book, too, which will hold all demominations (all dated) with each coin holder covered with clear pastic to keep your coins in place . . . priced at $1.50.

Kappa Chi Club Elects New Corps of Officers

Kappa Chi Club of St. Pius Catholic Church held its semi-annual election of officers and named Jerry Argrella as the new president.

Elected with him were Mary Ann Demma, vice president; Ted Laitinen, treasurer; Memi Dewolfe, recording secretary; and Mary Lee Rask, corresponding secretary.

The club has facilities to accommodate up to 100 members. The next two meetings, tonight and May 23, will be guest nights and open to all single Catholic adults between the ages of 18 and 30. The Club meets each Thursday evening at 8:30 p.m. at St. Pius Parish Hall, 1100 Woodside road. Dancing and refreshments follow the brief business meetings.

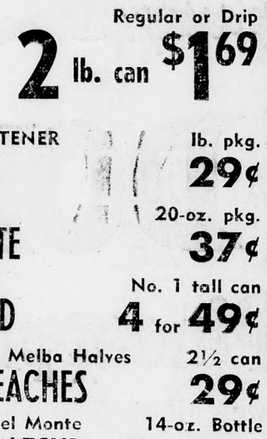

Sigma Kappa Luncheon For Special Guests

Representative officers of Sigma Kappa will be honored guests this Saturday at the annual spring luncheon of the Peninsula Alumnae Chapter of the sorority at the Allied Arts Guild followed by a brief business meeting and social hour at the home of Mrs. William H. Carr, 175 Fair Oaks lane, Atherton.

Making arrangements for the affair are Mrs. Carr, Mrs. Blake C. Wilbur and Mrs. Oscar E. Sette.

Honored guests will include Mrs. William Grieg of Oakland, National Panhellenic representative, Mrs. Henry Schacht of Berkeley, Northern California Province president; Mrs. E. E. Blackie of San Francisco, State Alumnae chairman; Mrs. Walton Dismukes of Palo Alto, president of the bay area council; Mrs. L. F. Durning, housemother at the San Jose chapter, Carol Hunter and Barbara Franchard of San Jose, president and rush chairman of the San Jose Chapter, respectively.

Patricia Whaley Sets Wedding on June 16

Fathers' Day, 1957 will be a most significant one for John Paul Whaley of Palo Alto Gardens, for on that day he will give his daughter in marriage and acquire a new son.

Patricia Whaley has chosen June 16 as the date for her exchange of vows with Billy C. Rodgers of Redwood City. The ceremony will take place at St. Francis of Assisi Catholic Church in East Palo Alto.

The bride-elect, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whaley, is the sister of Pauline, Donald and Sharon. She is a senior at Menlo-Atherton High school and will graduate during the week before her marriage.

Her fiance is the son of Mrs. Lester Parker of Lewiston, Idaho. He attended schools in his home town and served in the air force. He is employed by the Sequoia Processing Company in Redwood City.

Patty, too, came from Idaho. Even so, she did not meet Billy until she moved here. Until four years ago, her home was in Boise, Idaho. At that time the family moved into 144 Azalia drive and she entered M-A as a freshman. Through mutual friends the young couple became acquainted.

Back in Boise are Patty's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whaley and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Dorsaz make their home in Eugene, Oregon.

What's Doing Among Menlo Park Teen-Agers

Sue Legallet DA 6-0295

Let's pretend that last weekend we were invisible people, taking in all the parties as unknown guests. Included in our agenda would be a camp-out slumber party, swimming, an auto show, and for what else? Well, just read on.

First off, it seems that we might be traveling down to Carmel, Asilomar, to be exact. The HYC group of the Episcopal church attended a worthwhile conference. The kids who we would recognize should be Jeep Jones, Ray Honerlah, Jo Beth Hart, Mary Linforths, Doug Hancock and Suzanne Horney.

And now that our ghosts have traveled, let's see what was doing at home. Sue Grider entertaining Sue Lampman, Lin Skaff, Diane Hardy and Gaither Hatcher, plus some fellows Friday night.

SPRING CONCERT

Taking in a little intellectuual learning with fun could appeal to most anyone. Or so thought many, as we could observe at the Spring Concert. Now for the fun part . . . just follow the many cars up to the Woodside hills to Nancy Hansen's beautiful home. Being invisible, we couldn't eat any of the food served, nor would the splashing from the kids swimming in the pool make us bat an eyelash.

What happens on stage is interesting enough for most people (and this invisible one), but this time, why don't we just be a bit different? Because no one could see us, we sneaked backstage of the Crystal Springs School play, "You Can't Take It With You." (Sound familiar?). Scurrying around, awaiting cues, we found Sue Sjostrom, Judy Flood, Ann Mitchell, Connie Achilles, Betsy Perry, Ann Harris, Lois Martin, Joan Law, Nan Marshall, June Eastman, Kathy Long, Sally Davenport, Sue Greisser and Linda Blanchard. Then after the production, we took off to Blum's for a party given by Christie Cotton. Connie Achilles and Ann Harirs.

FISHING

Maybe we still haven't done what you want. How's this . . . fishing. But Hal Wyman, Gary Burke, Dick Aced, Kent Hull, Heney Fullenwider and Terry Baker didn't catch fish at Memorial Park, just thorns and poison oak. Thank you, but us invisibles can keep away from that.

Being what we are this week, we won't add to the already long list of Damon Miller and Dianne Dingleman's party. At Damon's house, Joan Wyant, was completely surprised with the birthday party, dinner included. Nina Miller, Dick Costello, Chuck Weshendorf, Bill Abreu, Dave Boye, Jack Parker, John Carr, Dave Webster, Jenny Pryor, Bob Fargason, Sam McEarlane, Chuck Bush, Fran Corradi, Paulette Grove, Joan Brown, Pat Nielson and Jackie Jackson ate the burgers, beans, salad, and two cakes.

All this food, and more, was enjoyed by others than just that group, as we noticed. Mary McGee, Liz Nunnen, Wendy Vocke, Nancy Clapp, Linda Fortnie, Vicky Jonas, Carolina Pittman, Stan Sales, Maryann Linxwiler, Bill Montorana, Ed Taney, Barc Corbus, Jill Papenhausen, plus others.

SMALL GROUP

Now we'll invade a small, unique group. At Betty Hoehn's Saturday night we could have joined Susan Gray, Nancy Grey, Nadine Graves, Donna Starin, Kathy Watson and Sandy Thomas in a sleepless slumber party, which also had swimming thrown in for good measure. But have no fear, the pool was heated to a cool 85 degrees.

What do you say, let's get fancy with the Menlo Spring Formal. The evening began with dinner at the Lanai for some kids, so let's join them. Fred Hock, Carol Coffin, Fred Carroll, Sue Clancy, Bill Hickey, Jennifer Perrin, Mike Bambauer, Kathy Farnsworth, Tom Turner; Gayle Cherin, Rick Rogers, Pat Meek, Gary aGmble, Judy Anderson, plus Tom Wakeman, Bill Kloot, Bubby Cortus, Pete Costello, Mike Jessin, and their dates.

AT CLUB

Lots of fun at the Peninsula Golf and Country Club, with Del Courtney's band. More kids seen at the dance were Ruth Calleti, Marcia Staples, Judy Byers, John Stoney, Nancy Silberburger, Roger Staples, Sara Cunningham, Carolyn Dunniway, Carole Burke and Bob McCall.

And now for just one more thing to sneak in on. A swell party followed at Bill Hickey's house in Woodside. That would have been a busy evening for us, wouldn't you say?

But usually, being the teen agers that we are, pizza dinners are something more common to us. Or at least they would be if we were with Jim Bourne, Sue Leslie, John King, Pat Nielsen, Zeth Armstrong, Pat Davis, Chuck Ott, Barbara Lavin, Rich Tuttle, Sue White and Paul Weiden, Saturday. It was dinner at Sue Lochner's, then the rod and sports car show, concluding with more food and dancing at Sue Leslie's.

'MIN' GOLF

Mentioning a repeat group, but this time with miniature golf. Being invisible didn't stop us from confusing the scores of Sue Lochner, Jim Bourne, Pat Davis, Mike Herney, Paulette Grove, Chuck Moss, Sue White and Paul Weiden.

Earlier we remember that we traveled to the auto show in San Mateo. Well, not only was there a group there on Saturday night (Betsy Winnberg, Carolyn Shannon, Jerry Fitzgerald, Mike Mahaney, Linda Lavoi, Greg Fox, Jan Oliva, Gary Zimmerman, Larry Wallace, Kent Morton, Barc Corbus, James Kjergard, Carol Tait, Virgil Harkins, Bob Shaps, Jerry Onnen, Ed Thomas, and Barbara Du Fresne) but any other time when it was open.

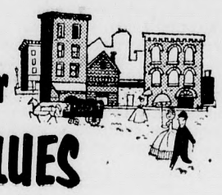

And other times we could have haunted such people as Glenn Smallcomb, Mike Durkin, Dave Strim, Liz O'Connell, Bill Meski, Nancy Farr, Bill Kehey, Linda Crawford, Lynne Hills, Bob Meyers, Betsy Kimball, Gary De Give and Frank Tripiano, and others, if we had been more observant.
